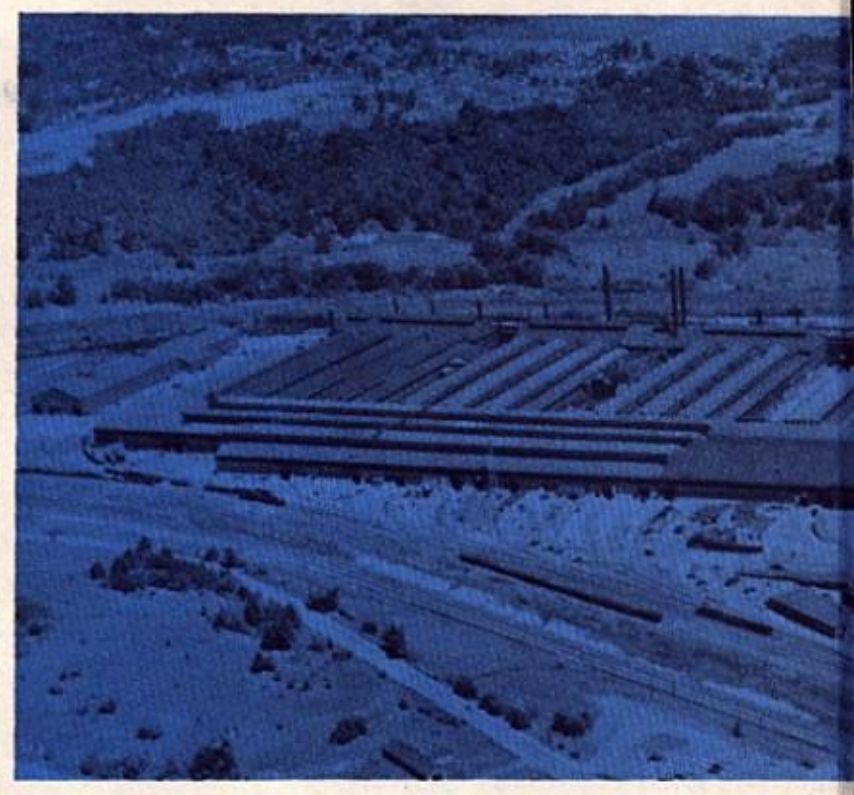
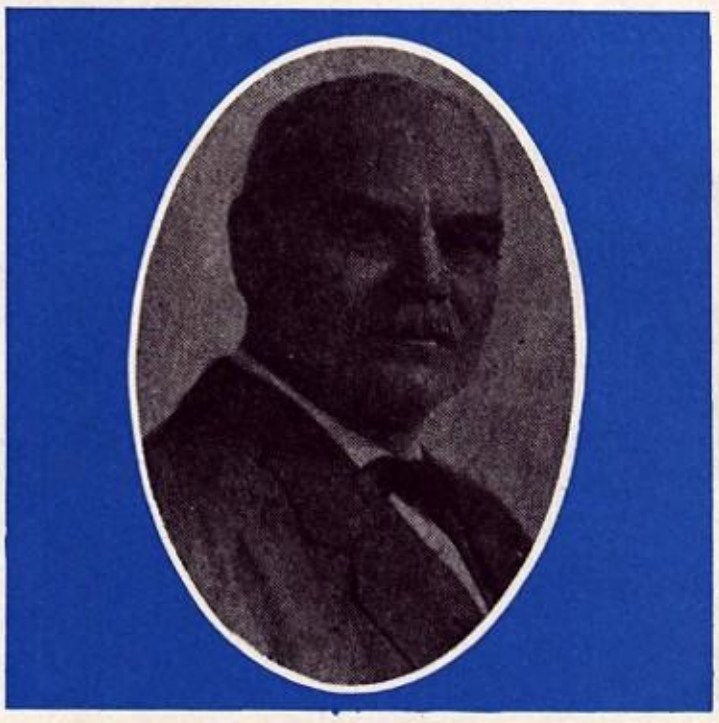
Steel mill sets pace



McDonald Mill



MR. THOMAS G. McDONALD

CAPT. JAME
Mayor

When the Carnegie Steel Company decided to increase their producing capacity in this district, they found it advisable to create new works rather than add to any of their existing works. After careful investigation, they fixed the site of the present McDonald Mills which at that time was farm land.

The Village of McDonald, as well as the mills, was named in honor Thomas G. McDonald, the first general superintendent of Carnegie Steel Company's Youngstown plants.

Mr. Clarence Miller succeeded former mill superintendents and was in charge at the time of the start of the housing projects.

That the workmen of the mills might be properly housed, it was necessary to build the village of McDonald, which was done by The Conneaut Land Company, a subsidiary of the Carnegie Steel Company. The house agent for this project was David F. Austin.

It was divided by avenues running north and south, named after the States and the Presidents, and by streets running east and west and numbered consecutively, commencing at the railroad.

Directly east of and adjoining the center of the village is Woodland Park, consisting of about 30 acres of woodland broken by ravines and hills and making a pleasure spot of great natural beauty.

The houses were of the 4, 5, 6 and 7 room types, with 4 double 4-roomed houses and 5 double duplex houses with 5-roomed apartments. The architecture is so varied that there were no two houses alike in the same neighborhood. The exteriors were finished in narrow and wide sidings, shingles, stucco, and brick. Every house was located on a paved street with sidewalks, sewers, water and electric services.

. . . the town that is.

There was a hotel with accommodations for 30 guests. The Federal census of 1920 gave a population of 621.

The village of McDonald was incorporated on December 12, 1918. The first election was held on February 25, 1918, and the officers elected organized the village government on March 1, 1918. The first mayor elected was James A. Freed.

The village of McDonald was part of Weathersfield Township and as such was under the supervision of the Weathersfield Board of Education. In the beginning before the village was incorporated, the few who moved into the town were at a loss as to what to do with the children for no school existed in the town. The Board of Education of Weathersfield made no attempt to take care of them. All children were asked to attend the district school located on Marshall Road. This school was a one-room rural school with no conveniences, poor sanitary conditions and one teacher who was expected to teach all subjects in all the grades from one to eight.

Through the efforts of Captain James A. Freed, a one-room building was completed for the winter term and then again in the spring the Weathersfield Board finally agreed to build another room. This was completed and ready for the fall term.

In October of 1919 work commenced on the new building. The fall term of 1920 began with a full corps of grade school teachers and four teachers at the high school.

On November 17, a fire destroyed the portable used for the upper grades and high school work and compelled some action on the new buildings. The entire building was not finished until the close of the school term of 1921.

During the development of the village of McDonald, a need for organizations and clubs was evident. After the new school was secure and functioning properly, provision was made for school activities and recreational facilities. The children found themselves involved in new and varied entertainment that was supervised in a way that helped them learn while they enjoyed working.

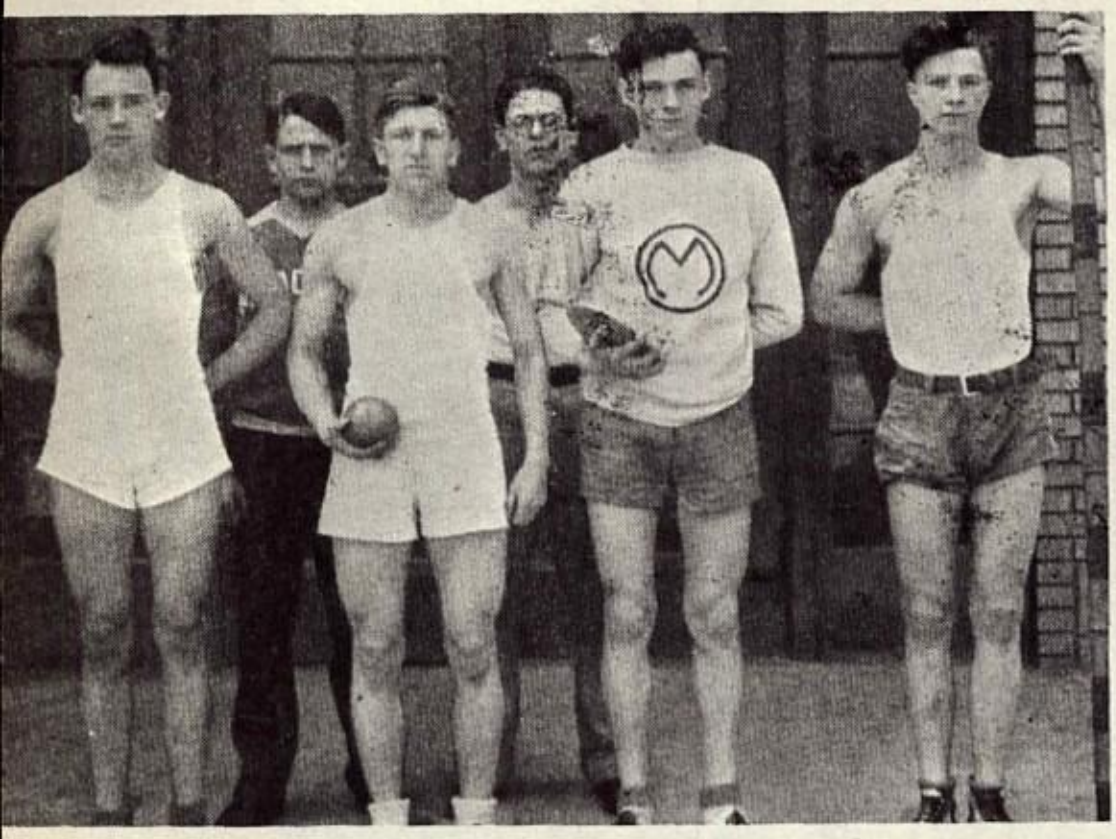
High School Home Economics Class



Boys' 1928 track team.

Construction on the new high school began in 1928 and was completed in 1930. The school boasted well-equipped commercial, home economics, and vocational departments. The building which was three stories high, held 18 classrooms. At the north end of the school, a gym that seated 1,200 people held the latest and most modern equipment available at the time. An indoor swimming pool that was one of the few of its kind in the state, and still is one of the best in the area, was built directly beneath the gym. The auditorium was one of the largest in Ohio at the time. Its quality was compared to some of the better city theaters. Seating capacity of the first floor and balcony was about 950.

Girls' basketball was a popular sport in McDonald and it drew large crowds. In the 1927-28 season the girls' team compiled a 9-7 record. The girls were highly skilled players and they scored 50 points in one game to beat Vienna, 50-4.

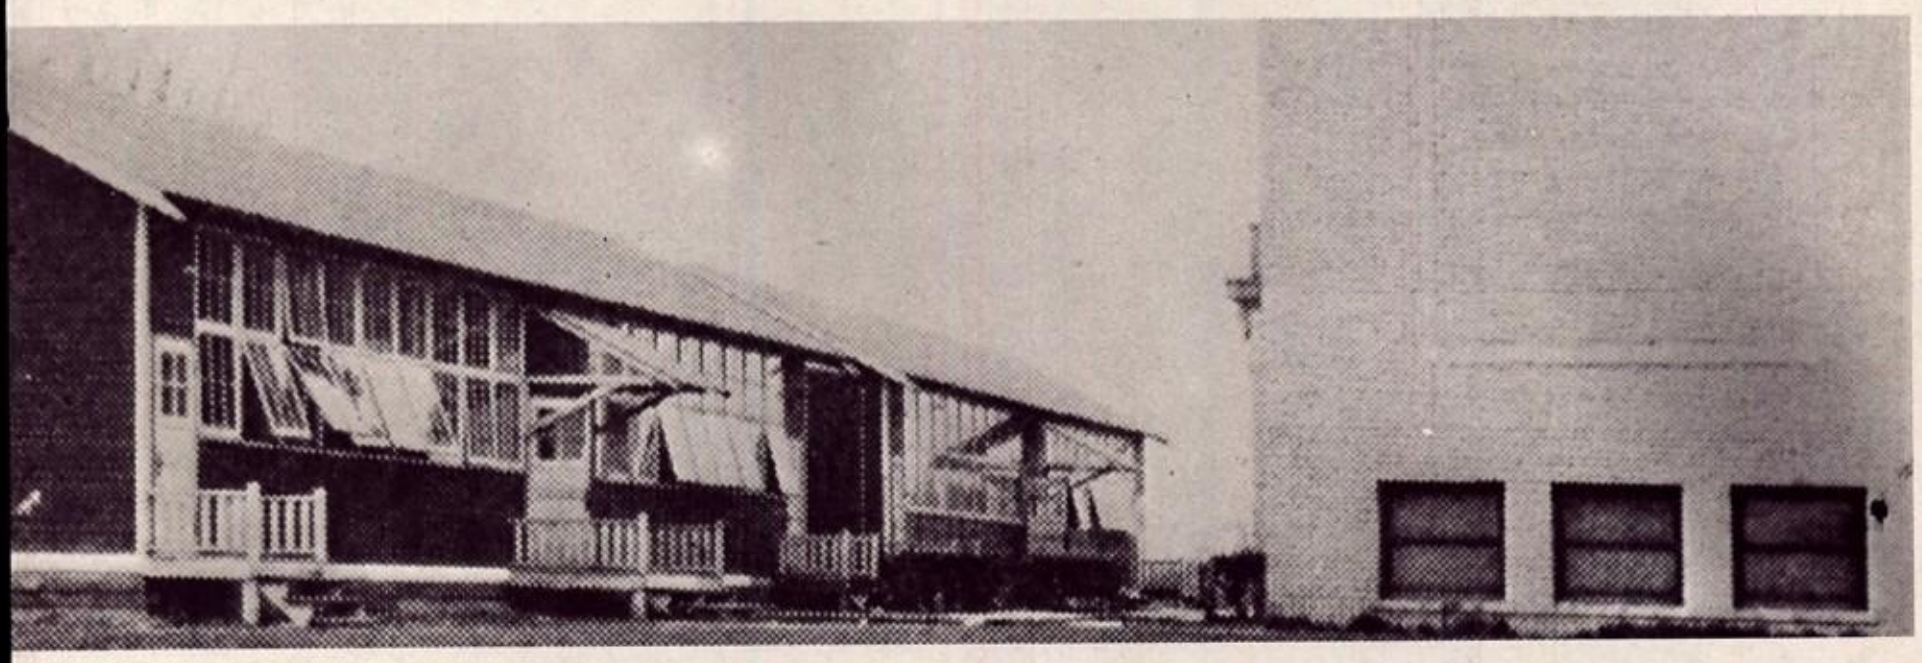
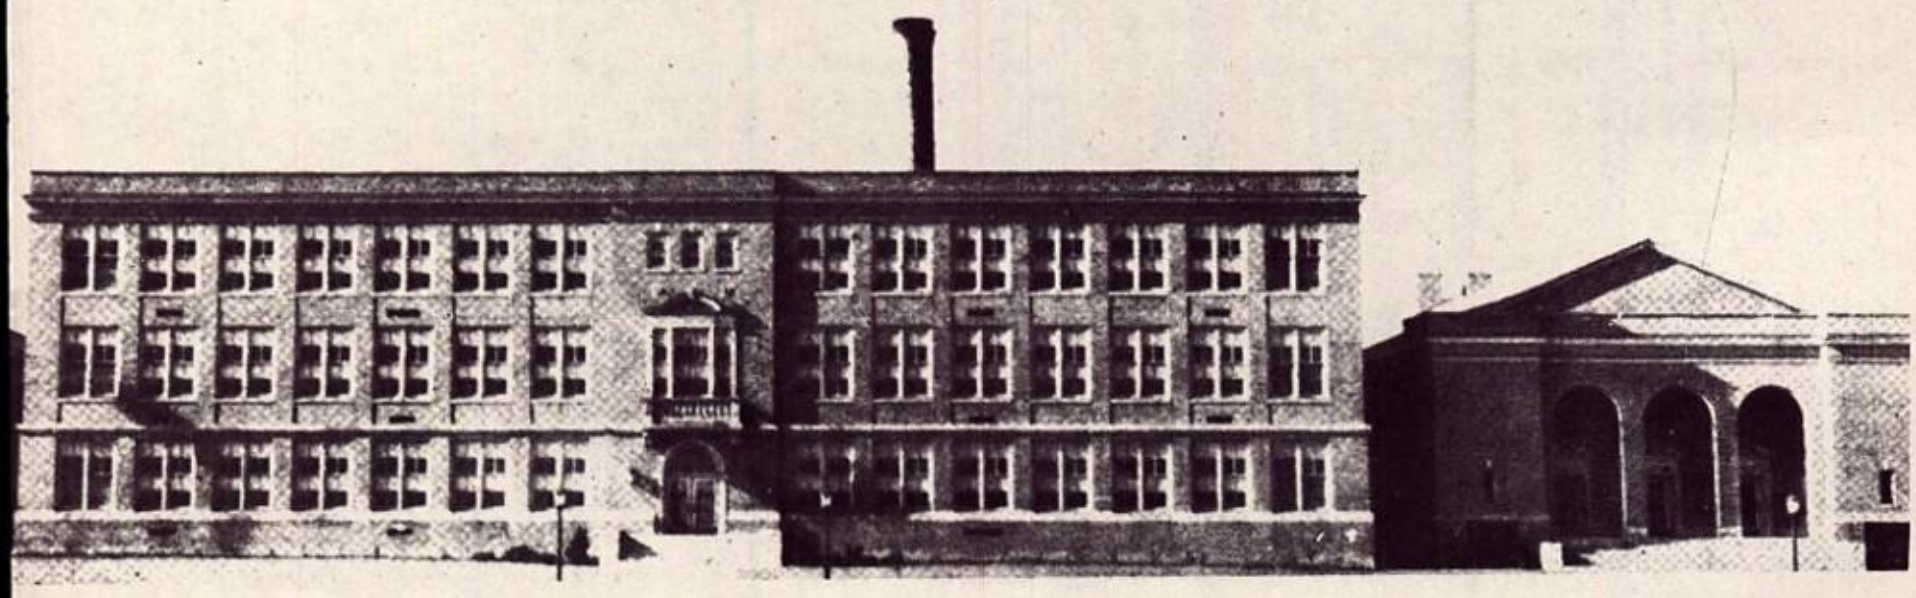
Construction of new school begins.

The result of extensive planning, tremendous foresight, and hard work--McDonald High School.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for McDonald High School took place in 1928. Lack of space in the Roosevelt building necessitated the erection of portables. This prompted the decision to build a new school.





"School dedicated to faith in American ideals

After a year and a half of planning and building, the new school was completed and ready to be dedicated. The dedication exercises took place in the new auditorium on October 5, 1929. Superintendent A. A. Burkey used a poem by Dr. W. H. Scott in his inspiring address. The men instrumental in build- our school and dedicating it were: Reverend W. H. Norman, Mr. Gilbert Miller, Mr. C. W. Meyers, Mr. A. A. Burkey, Mr. J. C. Berg, Mr. T. Begg, and Reverend W. H. T. Jones. Inscribed above the auditorium is the school's motto "Come ye to learn, go forth to serve."

The McDonald pool, one of the few of its kind in the area, measures 60' x 25' and ranges in depth from 3 1/2 to 7 1/2 feet. The pool is heated by boilers and cleaned by a sand and felt filtering system.

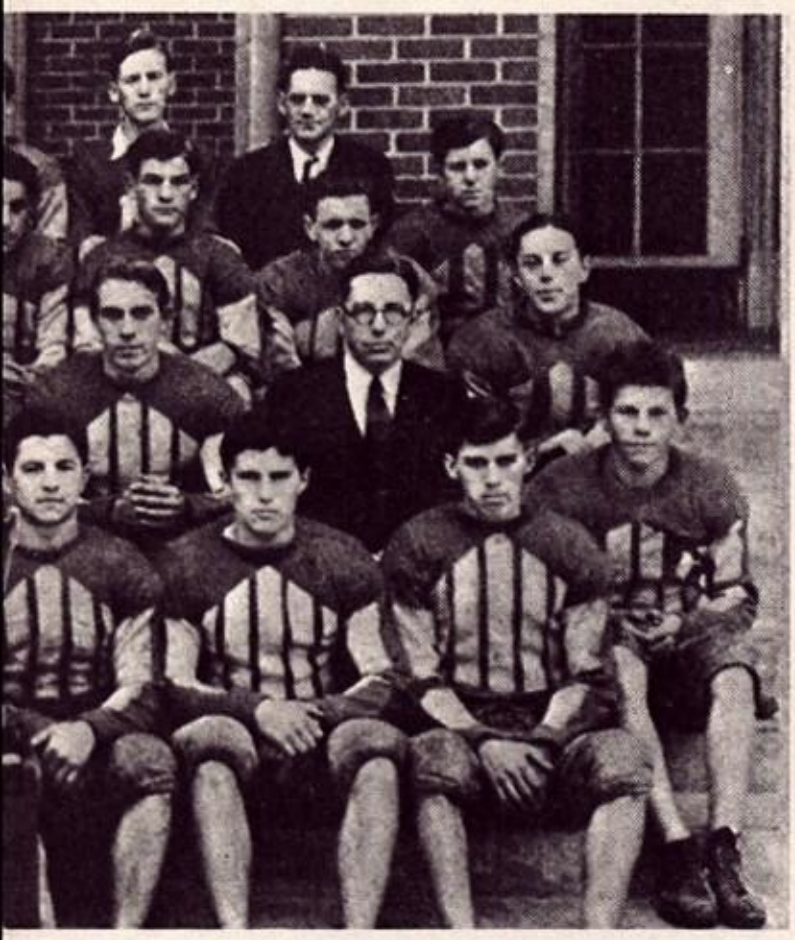
One of the main additions of the new school was a large spacious library. The library accumulated almost 2,000 books, 30 magazines, and several sets of reference books.

'31, '32 and '33 — Championship years

The seasons of '31 and '32 found the McDonald football team undefeated and untied with the only setback in 1933 to Stowe, 18-0. While they compiled two undefeated and untied seasons, they strung together thirty-one games without a defeat beginning in 1931 and lasting till 1934--the only smudges on the record being ties with Newton Falls and Mineral Ridge.

Although the Blue Devil Pep Club was limited in number, there was no limit to the number of good athletic teams to encourage. The late 20's and early 30's found McDonald fielding fine athletes in all sports.

at McDonald High.



The '32-'33 season was one of the most successful seasons enjoyed by McDonald basketballers. Out of twenty-eight games played, they won twenty-six and lost only two, being undefeated in regular season play. The two losses came in the Sectional and N. E. O. District championship tournaments at the hands of Lowellville and Howland.

The trophy case was located in the Board of Education Room and contained trophies awarded to McDonald High School from 1930-1935. Later, a new trophy case was built on the first floor of the high school. Some of the awards included in the case were presented to junior-high, freshman, and senior students for various achievements in football, basketball, track, scholarship, music, and journalism.

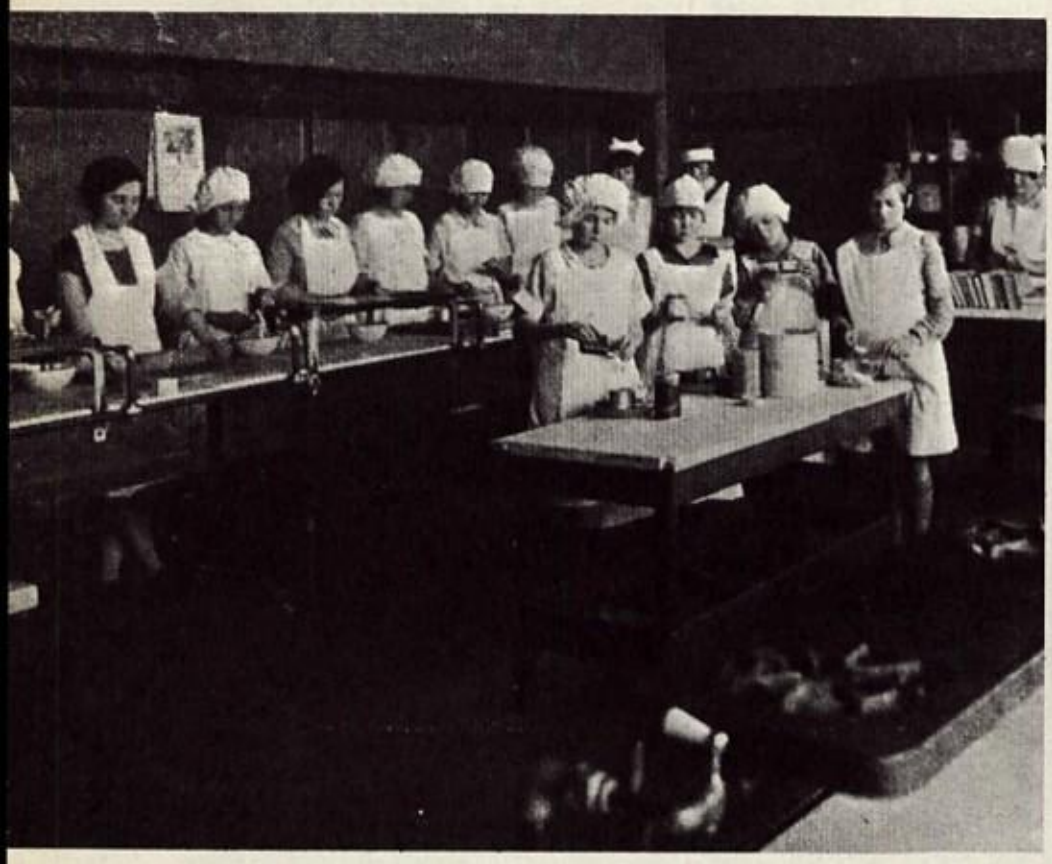
On March 12, 1937, the operetta "Tom Sawyer" was presented by the students of Roosevelt School. The music for the play was directed by Pearle Knapp and the acting parts were directed by Josephine Roush. One of the largest audiences to witness a production of this kind attended this performance.



Preparing girls to be more efficient homemakers was the aim of homemaking courses. The cooking laboratory was fortunate in having a gas plant whereby gas was generated from high-test gasoline by means of electricity. The village did not have gas in the homes for cooking purposes at that time. The machine was located in the basement and the gas was piped to the cooking laboratory where there were individual gas plates at each desk. A fireless cooker, a pressure cooker, and a large supply of chinaware made housekeeping in this course interesting and pleasant for the girls.

Knowledge was received by each student in elementary business. Most of this information was obtained in regular mathematics courses. Each student should have learned to keep simple, personal accounts, interpret business forms, understand the principles governing the payment of taxes, and to budget his income. Business training is not composed of stenography and typewriting alone but of a variety of related subjects dealing with business methods and ideas.

In 1937 our band was completely uniformed including color guards, drum majors, and majorettes. The fact that the entire band was uniformed and the cost was met by the efforts of the private citizens was a great tribute to those who participated. The uniforms cost more than $2,000.

MHS joins national war defense savings program.

Selling of war stamps and bonds was sponsored by the History Club. We received several certificates of awards and merit from the National War Finance Committee for the fine way our school carried out its program of war stamps and bond sales. The sales took place every morning and noon in the main entrance. Until 1945 the sales totaled $4,531.55 and by 1946 we had accumulated an additional $1,941.95 to make a total of $6,473.50.

Studies . . . clubs . . . activities dominated

C. B. C. Club

One of the extra-curricular activities open to students in 1940 was the Citizen Builders Club. The purpose was to promote friendliness among the students and faculty members and to encourage acts which were beneficial to its members and to the school in general. Some of the club's activities included swim parties and skating parties from which the proceeds were used to purchase a banner for the school and to donate to the Uniform Fund.

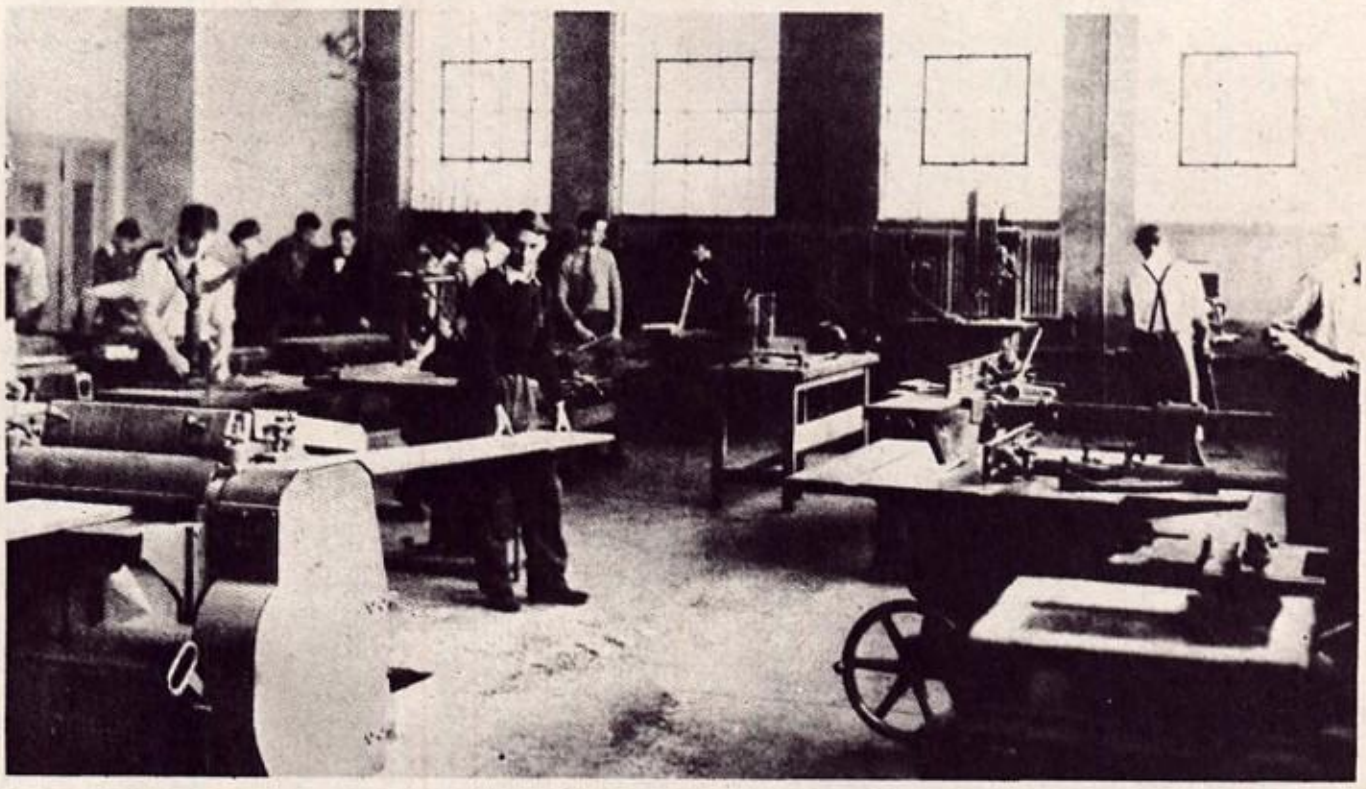
Roy Palmer, Helen Pat Callahan, Helen Kish, Helen Kieltsch, Marjorie Scarbrough, and Alfred Hale were varsity cheerleaders for 1938-39 football and basketball games. Boy cheerleaders proved to be very effective in promoting school spirit; however, through lack of enthusiasm, we no longer have male cheerleaders on the MHS cheering squads.

After many hours of planning and sewing, the girls from the Home Economics Department presented a style show. During the year 1939 prints were "in"!

the 1940-41 high school schedule.

The EDA Society was composed of girls from the eighth grade cooking class. In 1940 the association was under the supervision of Miss McEvoy. The society's main aim was to remodel the apartment to the best of its ability. They also performed the task of serving lunch to the school students several times.

Woodwork, mechanical drawing, and printing were the subjects offered to the vocational department. Printing was the main subject. There were seventy cases of type, not all of which were alike, because more of one kind was used than of another. The shop was run just like a factory, with a foreman who checked students' progress and a clerk who saw that a record was kept of each student's job.



By the end of each year first-year typing students had to pass speed tests at 30-40 words per minute. Typing II students had to pass 56-60 words per minute with no errors. In 1940 there were 27 typewriters, a new mimeoscope, and a new mimeograph machine in the commercial department.

Activities . . .

Public speaking class in the '40's proved to be an entertaining, educational, and profitable class offered to students at M. H. S. In addition to learning the principles of public speaking and giving many speeches before the class, the members attended a debate tournament at Struthers, witnessed criminal trials at the Warren Court House, and visited Radio Station WRRW. They also produced a radio program over that station. The class also wrote and produced a humorous skit about a model business meeting.

Opening the 1940-1941 basketball schedule of fourteen games were four lettermen. The Devils won five and lost eight, while one game was canceled due to a flu epidemic. Floyd Barnes was the leading scorer for the season with 141 points (including tournament play). In tournament competition, the team recorded three victories and two losses.

In 1941 McDonald High School entered a new sports adventure -- baseball; Mr. Grant Donaldson was the first coach of the baseball team. Mr. A. A. Burkey consented to their joining the County League, and the team qualified for the County Tournament. Leavittsburg beat McDonald by four runs in a thrilling game.

Heading the 1942 marching band were drum majorettes Elizabeth Kalenich, Eileen Probst, and Catherine Irwin. Throughout the football season, they displayed their talent in twirling their batons and in leading the band through their routines.

sports, classes, music . . . dominate 1941-1943 period.

Students displayed their ability to write interesting and prize-winning essays in the annual American Legion Essay Contest. The subject for the essay was "The Attitude of the American Youth Toward Compulsory Military Training." One boy and one girl from each grade, 9 through 12, was allowed to compete. Of the eight possible winners at the local post, McDonald was awarded seven places. Three of the winners continued in county competition and won three of the eight possible positions.

Boy Scouts of 1939-1940 were under the direction of Mr. Roy Zeller, who had been the scoutmaster for a number of years. The Boy Scouts benefited the community by giving their voluntary service at all of the public affairs. They met once a week at the Boy Scout Cabin; various tests were also given here. After the meetings, they generally had a period of recreation.

Vocational shop courses provided the students with the basic skills and experiences needed to supply them with a better understanding of what would be expected of them when they took their place in industry. This was the steel age. The school had the equipment to contribute to the students' training in the field of this steel enterprise.

At the beginning of the 1945 school year, Mr. William Rea helped supervise and organize the Photography Club. This course included class and laboratory work, picture-taking, developing, and printing. The class also took pictures of students and school activities for the school yearbook. A fully equipped dark room, an Argus 35 m.m. snapshot camera, a Speed Graphic, and Conway Portrait Camera were at the disposal of the class.

"Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country."

(Daniel Webster)

Through the efforts of many men and women, our country has remained the "land of the free and the home of the brave." Some of these courageous Americans sacrificed their lives that others might continue to enjoy the privileges of living in this land of liberty.

To these people, we are forever grateful. As a small token of appreciation, a war memorial was erected in Woodland Park. This structure is a permanent monument to those who so gallantly served their country and gave their lives to preserve peace and freedom.

"The Y-Teens" were formerly known as the "Girl Reserves." They, like the other thousands of girls' clubs in the world, changed their name as a part of a world-wide movement to modernize clubs and make them more appealing to girls. The new club follows even more closely the ideals and principles of the Young Women's Christian Association. Its purpose is: "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed in their paths as Christians." Today the Coseho Y-Teen club consists of more than 60 high school girls. These junior and senior girls participate in many service projects which benefit both school and community.

New clubs with new ideals.

McDonald has always taken pride in its fine swimming pool, the only one of its kind in the area. Under the direction of Miss Constance Marion, the Royal Swan Swim Club was formed in 1951. Combining a variety of swimming strokes and styles, along with precision timing, the first syncronized swim show made its debut. This club set the pattern for the club of today, which is under the direction of Miss Patricia Connelly. Participating in this club involves many long hours of hard work and determination to make the annual show a success. Being a member of the Royal Swans involves great responsibility; each member is responsible for her individual routines, music, costumes, and making and painting the scenery.

An outstanding milestone in the history of McDonald High School was the construction of the football stadium. Mr. Howard McGowan was superintendent of schools when the stadium was built and dedicated. Congressman Michael Kirwan of the nineteenth Congressional District and Mr. F. B. Louys, Trumbull County Superintendent, were a few of the distinguished guests who attended the dedication in 1952. The stadium consists of two locker rooms, a room for the storage of football equipment, and also a large storage room for track equipment. Another outstanding feature concerning the stadium construction was the outdoor lighting system. McDonald was one of the first schools in the area to have such facilities. The "Blue Devils" showed their appreciation for this fine new stadium by defeating Columbiana 26 to 6 in the game following the dedication.

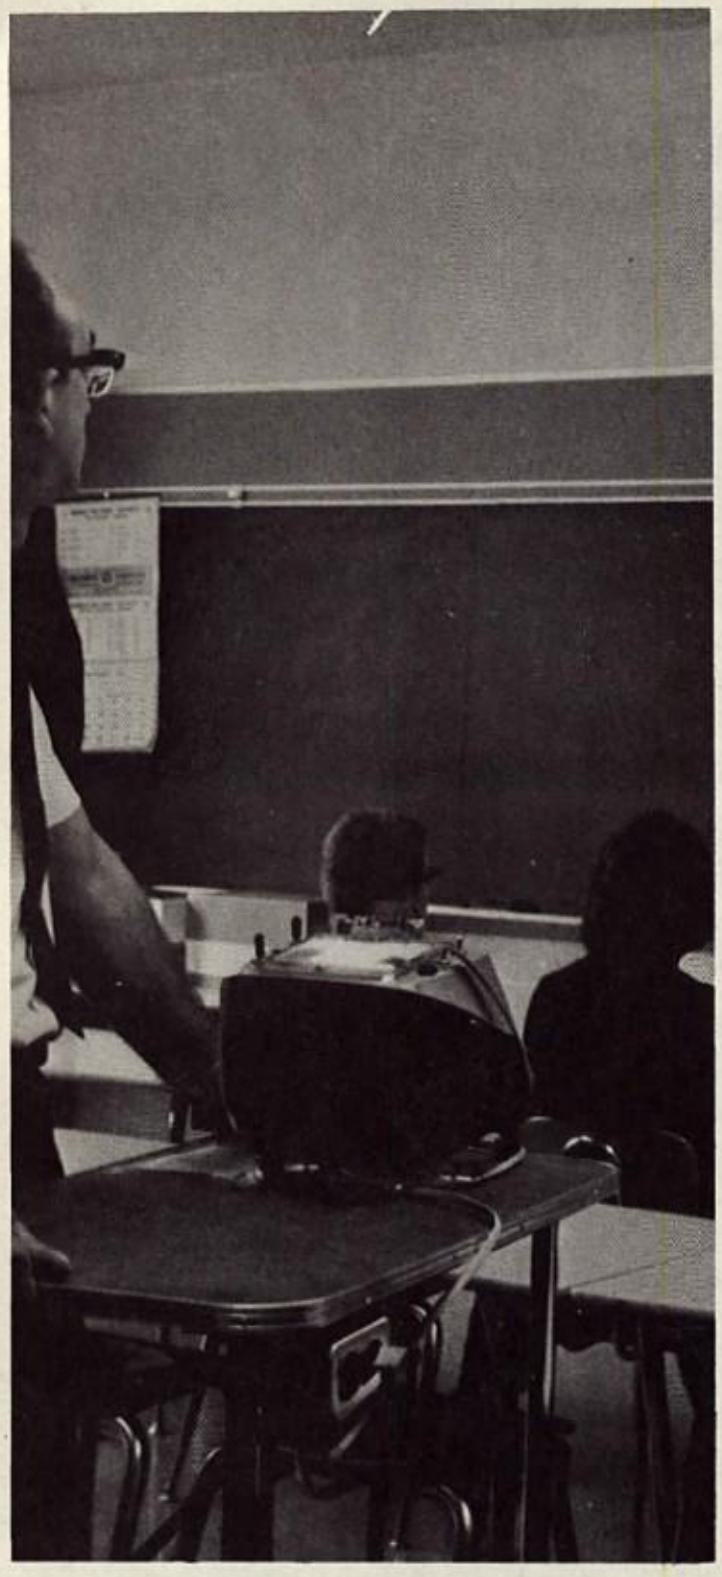
On April 24, 1952, one of McDonald's hopes became a reality. Former superintendent A. A. Burkey, on behalf of the Board of Education, accepted a check from Mrs. Edwin Baldwin to be used to purchase a bus to transport students for various school activities. The money was raised by holding a contest.

The bus was formally presented to the new superintendent Mr. Howard McGowan, in September, 1952.

Annexes progress



One of the five rooms annexed to McDonald High School in 1961 was the reading room. The Reading Department acquired new equipment to help students read faster and more efficiently. A course in speed reading is offered to students. The new reading program enables students to progress at their own rate of comprehension.

With the aid of a Rheem Califone language lab, language students hear their language subjects on tapes. A master console and 27 student stations make it possible for the students to learn languages fluently. The modern trend dictates the new language curriculum offered French I, II, III, and IV and Spanish I and II.

Biology and physiology are more easily taught to students due to the addition of the new biology lab which was constructed in 1962. This lab is equipped with the most modern facilities including many charts and diagrams for class instruction, as well as numerous preserved samples of lower animal and plant life. Also the lab contains several microscopes purchased for viewing plant cells, living tissue, and small insects. The biology lab also includes a greenhouse where plants are cultivated the year round.

Contributing greatly to our scientific curriculum was the addition of the new physics lab. Slide rules, pulleys, and precise weights are included among the equipment purchased for use in the new lab. When such materials are available for demonstrational purposes, the science of equations, velocities, and accelerations is more easily conveyed to students. Several large cabinets were installed for the storage of the scientific equipment.

Artistic talents are expressed by students in the new art room. Large supplies of paints, brushes, sketching equipment and several kinds of pastel chalks are always on hand for student use. The availability of modern equipment in the art room has influenced students to try their skills at drawing, painting and modeling.

Part of the new addition in 1967 will include the new public and school library. This library will consist of five additional rooms besides the main room. The main reading room will have a magazine reading corner and will be carpeted. The carpeting will help keep the library quiet and will make floor cleaning and maintenance less work. The furniture will be a walnut design. There will be round and rectangular tables to seat four. The library will be supplied with a large card catalogue, vertical files, an atlas stand, a world globe, and a reference table for the Reader's Guide. Shelves will be installed to house more than eight-thousand books.

In addition to the main reading room, there will be additional areas for processing library materials, storage, stock room, and audio-visual equipment.

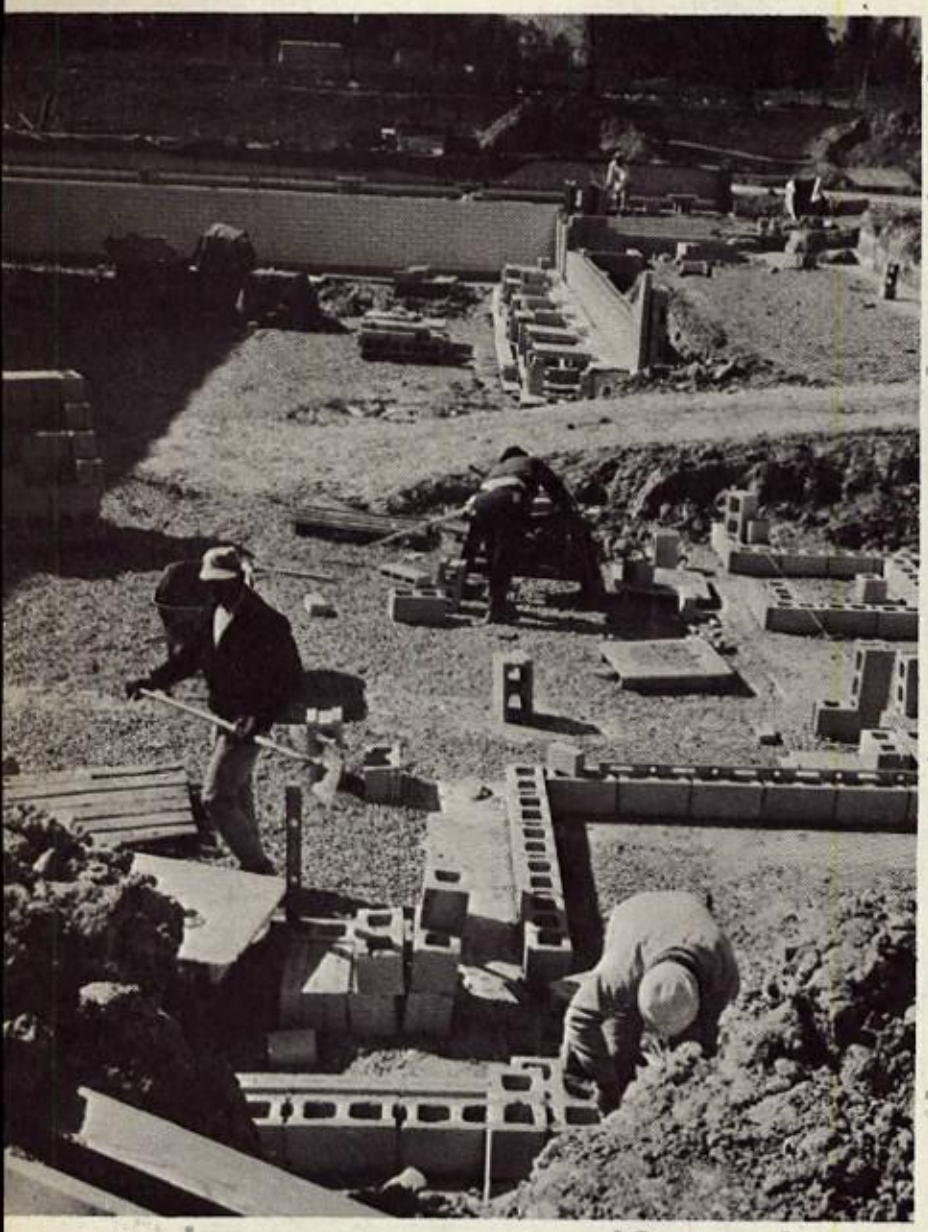
The Administration Department will be on the first floor of the new wing with the English Department located on the second floor.

Adjacent to the Superintendent's office will be a conference area to be used for various educational meetings.

Separate rooms will be built for audio-visual aides: also, students will be able to listen to records in the listening room.

Typing and art classes will also be held in the new wing on the first floor. The main reading room will cover an area of 71 feet by 45 feet.

Main Portion of Gymnasium



In the latter part of 1967, construction for the new physical education plant will be completed. With its completion McDonald will have physical education and athletic facilities rated among the best in the area. The new gymnasium will have a main basketball court 84 ft. long and 50 ft. wide. Along with the main floor will be two practice courts 70 ft. long and 48 ft. wide for the use of the Physical Education Department as well as the varsity basketball team. With the addition of new bleachers, the new gym will be able to seat approximately 1,800. New boys' and girls' locker rooms and a separate varsity locker room are among the many sections of the new gymnasium. With each of these locker rooms will be an adjoining shower room. Also, offices for the physical directors and the custodians will be included.

An all purpose room is to be located beneath the gymnasium. Dances, gymnastics, and wrestling are a few of the uses for this room. There will be additional deck and seating area for the swimming pool. A driver training room, a visual aid room and a projection room will also be underneath the gym. A garage and several storage areas are also to be constructed there.

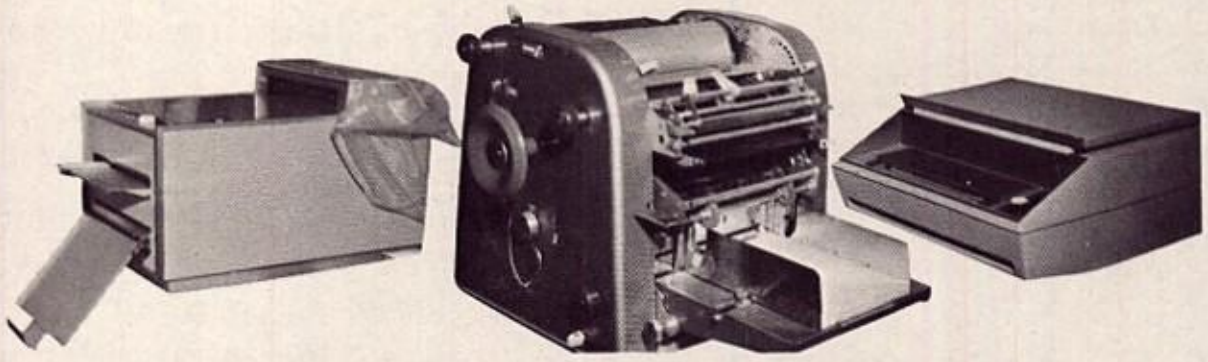
AS HIGH SCHOOL GUIDANCE counselor Miss Constance Marion performs many duties essential to the students of MHS. Among her tasks are keeping cumulative records for all students, administering tests, counseling individual students when necessary, and providing information on college entrance requirements. Here she is going over college books with Karen McClain, Kathy Casale, Linda McCombs and Cathy Scarbrough.



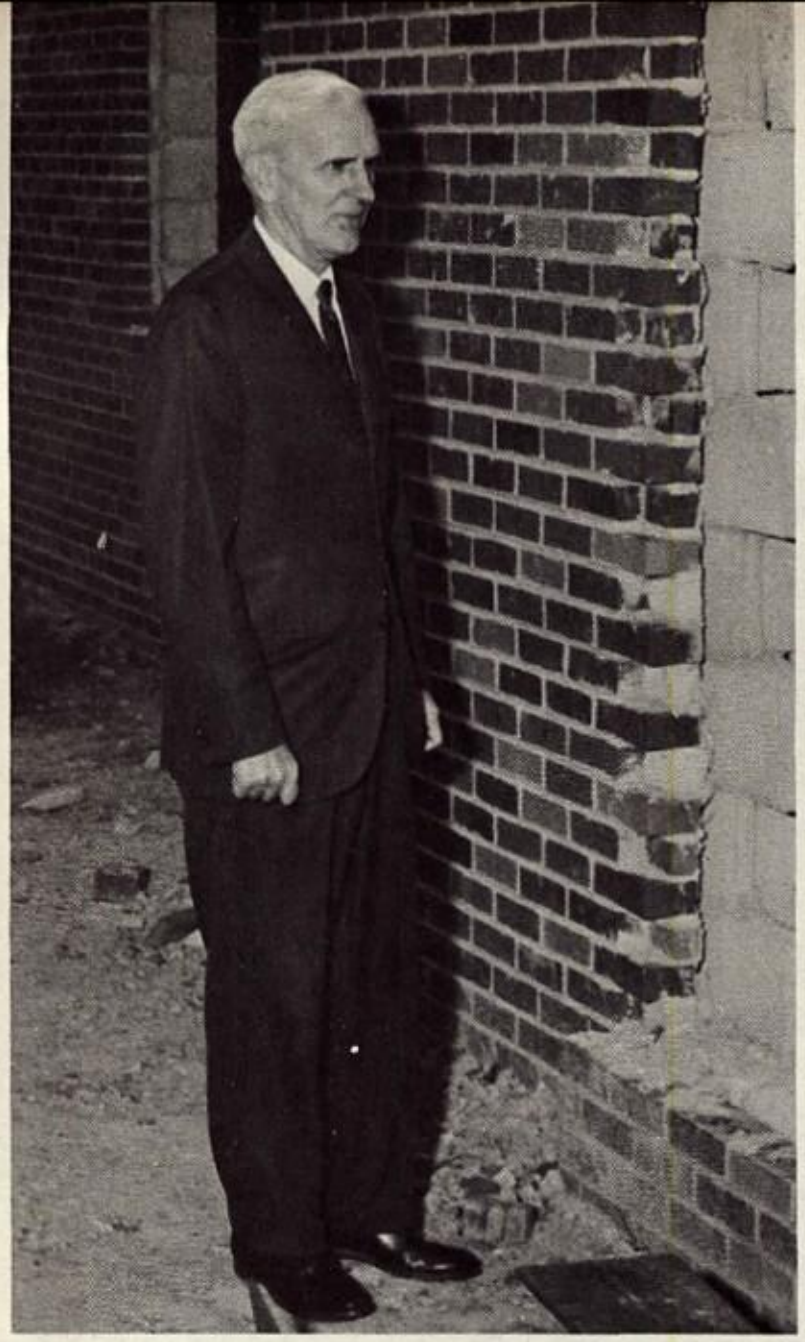
Mrs. Doris Molin

Mrs. Nova Lewis

MRS. DORIS MOLIN, high school secretary, performs varied tasks in her daily routine. As receptionist, she answers the phone and takes messages. As typist, she types students' permanent records, programs and bulletins. As a "Jack of all trades," she fills the candy machines each morning, sells school supplies in the stockroom, and instructs teachers and students in the use of the copier, photocopier, and the ditto machine.

ASIDE FROM TEACHING her regular classes, Miss Joan Bako took on the task of school treasurer this year. Miss Bako's duties include keeping records for the school activity fund and issuing monthly financial reports.

MRS. LEAH STREETER serves as nurse for both McDonald schools and also performs the duties of attendance officer. Everyday she records the absent students and sees that each teacher receives a copy of this report.



Keeping the McDonald School system in first-class condition is a challenging and difficult task. It requires sound judgments, quick decisions, and the ability to establish discipline. The responsibility of making the McDonald School system run smoothly belongs to Mr. William E. Rea, superintendent of McDonald Schools; Mr. John Saganich, principal of the high school; and Mr. Charles F. Kukuk, principal of the Roosevelt Elementary School. Clearing students' schedules of class conflicts, handling disciplinary problems, and making daily announcements are just a few of the many duties of the principals.

SUPERINTENDENT
MCDONALD SCHOOLS

Superintendent's Address

This year denotes a milestone in the education of McDonald youth. With fifty years behind us, we look forward to improving the education and facilities of our schools.

How successfully have we extended -- or better, have we succeeded in extending -- the equality of educational opportunity to important ethnic and other groups in our society? Do we need to carefully re-examine the meaning of equality of opportunity in the light of what we know about cultural barriers?

Do the programs which we have been developing for the gifted bring forth the great talents of the many who do not -- who cannot, in fact, because of different backgrounds and different talents -- perceive these programs as a source of helpfulness? How easy it is to assume that we are doing much more than we are doing.

Do we, despite our profession of great concern for individual differences, administer schools which are too much alike, which have emphasized conformity more than creativity?

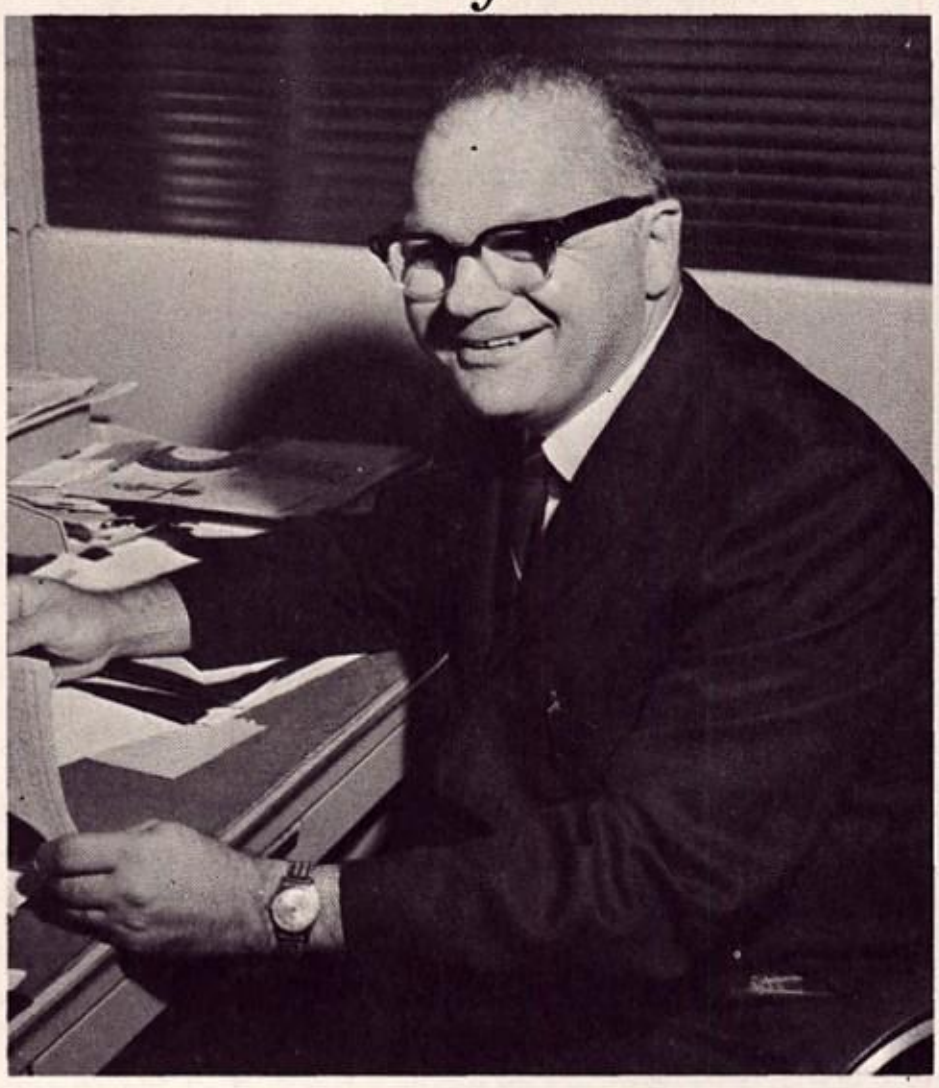
Do we assume that because they are all in school it is a common school, common for all of them in its offerings and values? Or is education really thought of by educators much too often as formal learnings which, as in the case of the Indians, may be only the more manifest aspects of culture, and which have relatively little significance for the basic values and adjustments of these people?

It appears to me that we as educators are being required to turn to the study of education in other societies. This is being made necessary by a number of facts. One, our society is looking to other societies for changes in education. I would mention also the fact that mobility of the world's people is increasing at a very rapid rate. This means increasing contacts with other cultures, other educational systems, and greatly increasing challenges to us and to our educational system. There is going to be an increasing exchange of people and the study of their problems.

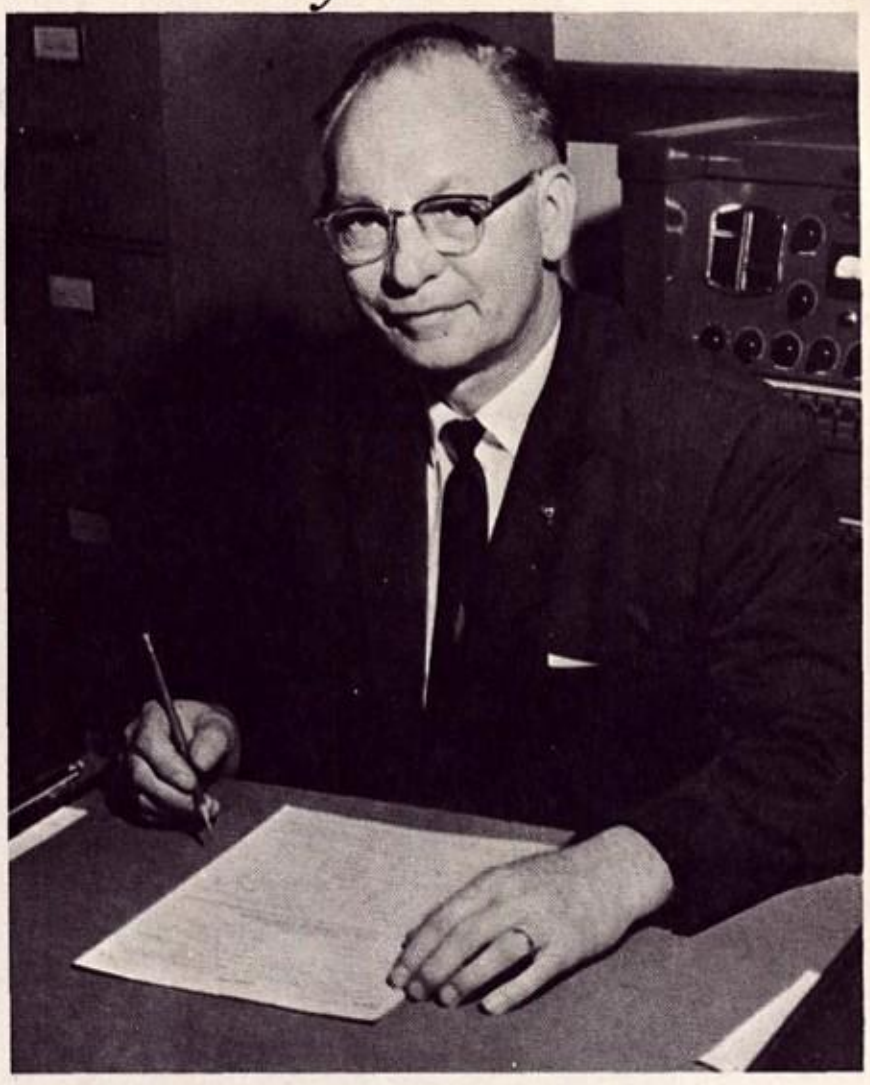
Specifically I would suggest, therefore, that ten years from now the graduates of McDonald High School must in a large part be men and women who have developed a deep interest in education in the world, a deep commitment to education in the world society, who have developed high competence with reference to at least one other culture, and who have spent at least one or two years in that other culture.

The day of isolation is over. The day when educational leaders learn of education in newly developing countries through reading about it in the newspaper or hearing it on the radio, or seeing it on television -- this day must be over if we are to remain educational leaders.

Work, deliberations, and planning combine to form a sound school system.



MR. JOHN SAGANICH, principal of the high school, has a B. S. degree in commerce and an M. S. degree in education. He graduated from Ohio University and obtained his masters' degree at Westminister College. His hobbies are traveling and reading. His chief interest is sports -- following the M. H. S. Blue Devils.



MR. CHARLES F. KUKUK, principal of the Roosevelt Grade School, has his B. S. degree as well as an M. S. degree. He graduated from Thiel College and received his masters' degree from Westminister College. He also attended Kent State University. His hobbies are hunting and photography.

Responsibility for forming and establishing school policies rests with the Board of Education. The Board makes many important decisions regarding the hiring of teachers, establishing teachers' and employees' salaries, and purchasing new equipment and educational materials.

Members of the Board are Mrs. Catherine Bellitt, Mr. John Evans, Jr., Mr. Fred Molin, Clerk; Mr. Robert Scarbrough, President; Mr. Loren Jensen, and Mrs. Marie Krupko, Vice President.

"The world is a stage, the stage

THE CHORUS, under the direction of Mr. Robert Paxton, presented its annual show, "Varieties of '66." After weeks and weeks of rehearsing dance routines, joke sessions, comedy acts, and popular songs, the three performances were enthusiastically presented to crowded audiences. Performing the duties of interlocutors for the show were David Barrett and Jon Barb.

AFTER THE LAST performance of the show, director Mr. Robert Paxton and accompanist Mrs. Peg Baldwin pose with Endmen Nat Gallo, Larry Aubel, Bob Urban, Tom Long, Tom Hart, and Tom Johnson.

SHAREN BARRETT displays her "Go-Go" talents by demonstrating the latest dance. She was accompanied by the music of the "Huns," McDonald's own musical group.

BY DOING the Charleston, Virginia Vadino and Bonnie Essad take us back into the "Roaring Twenties."

MEMBERS OF THE Junior High Chorus mimic to the tune of "I'm Henry the Eighth I Am!" Because of the growing size of the Senior High Chorus, the seventh and eighth grade have a division of their own.

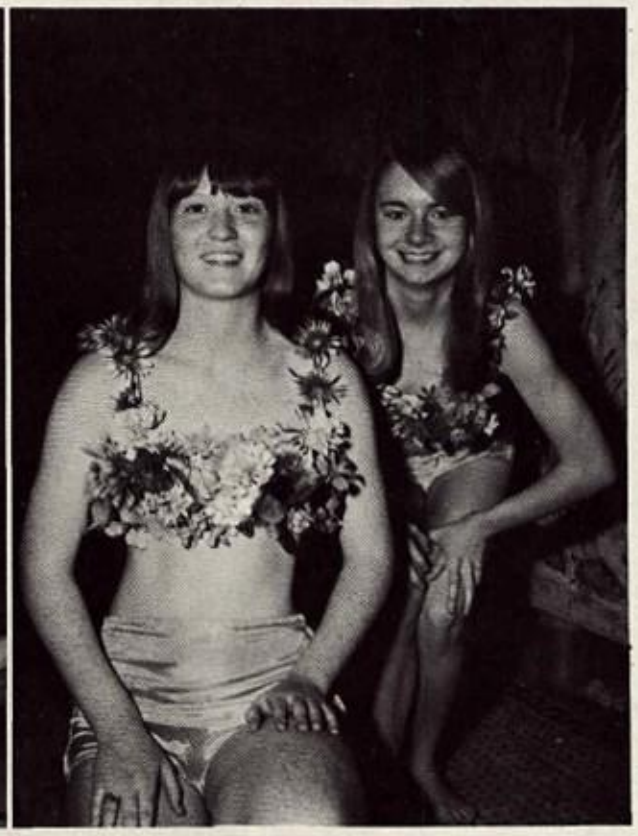
A token of appreciation was given to Mrs. Peg Baldwin for her talented accompaniment. After the final performance, a formal dance was held to honor Mr. Robert Paxton for helping to make the show such a great success.

Royal Swans lead the way to "Where

IN THEIR COLORFUL SHIFTS, these fifteen members of the Royal Swan Swim Club prepare to open the show with "Where the Action Is." They are Ruth Ann Walls, Diana Lawson, Lorraine Polinsky, Cecilia Hale, Joyce Koniowsky, Della Lawson, Cheryl Schmidt, Martha Rishel, Cindy Kish, Virginia Vadino, Barbara Cartwright, Gail Helt, Karen Steeves, Marianne Evans and Patty Scirocco.

THESE SEQUINNED costumes added much to the duet, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," performed by Cindy Kish and Cheryl Schmidt.

SIX SWANS, Ruth Ann Walls, Lorraine Polinsky, Cecilia Hale, Joyce Koniowsky, Cheryl Schmidt, and Martha Rishel, salute the "Buckeye State" in the routine, "Our State Fair."



BEAUTIFUL MUSIC provides the setting for Ruth Ann Walls and Della Lawson's rendition of "More."

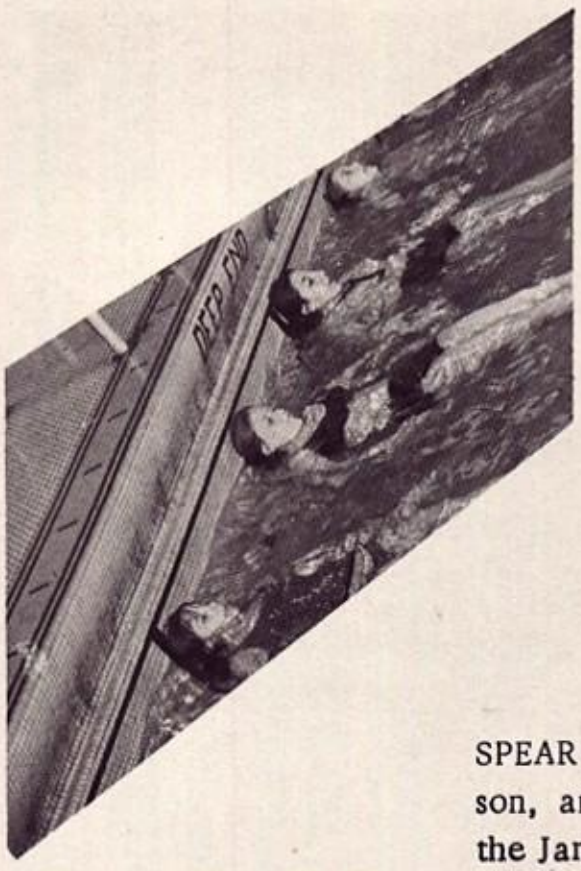
he Action Is!" in 15th annual show.



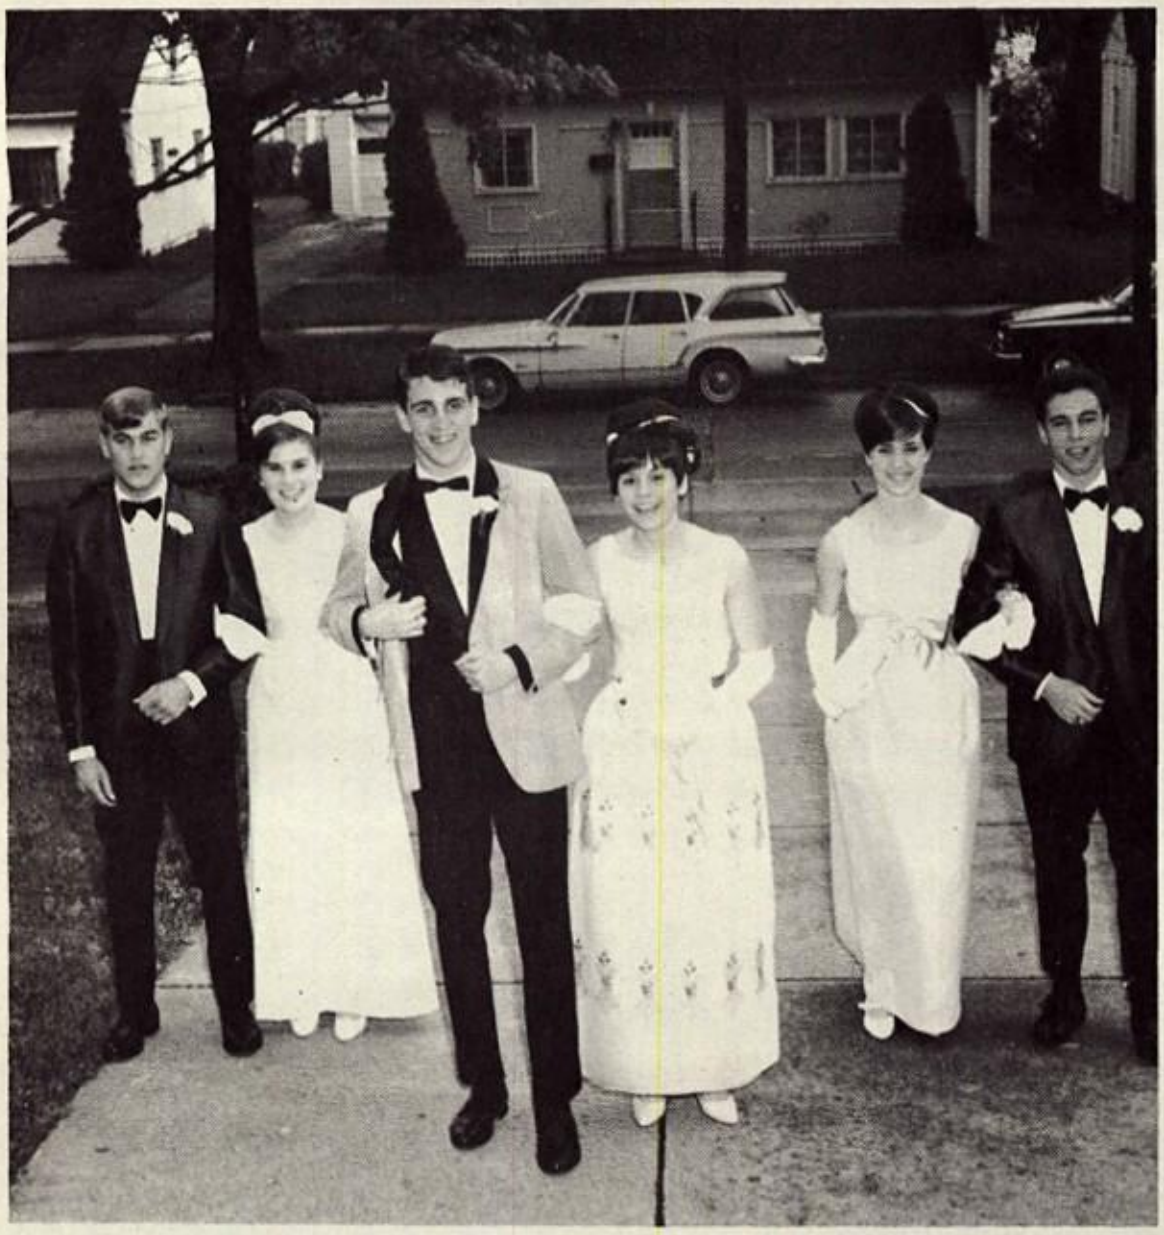
SPEAR GUNS clear the way for Cindy Kish, Della Lawson, and Cecilia Hale as they swim to the music from the James Bond thriller, "Thunderball."

"Practice makes perfect" is a familiar saying among the members of the Royal Swan Swim Club. Spare moments are spent not only in the water, but making the costumes and the scenery which contribute to the effectiveness of the show. Ideas for the opening number and the finale are provided by the club's managers Martha Rishel and Lorraine Polinsky. Miss Rosemary Modarelli, MHS girls' physical education instructor, was the adviser for the 15th annual show.

SWIMMERS Karen Steeves, Marianne Evans, Diana Lawson, and Gail Helt check their "XXX" supply before entering the water for their number, "Tequila."

SMOCKS, palettes, and easels are props which depict an artist's workshop--the background for "Green Onions," featuring Virginia Vadino, Diana Lawson, and Gail Helt, Karen Steeves, and Marianne Evans.

1966 Junior Senior Prom begins . . .

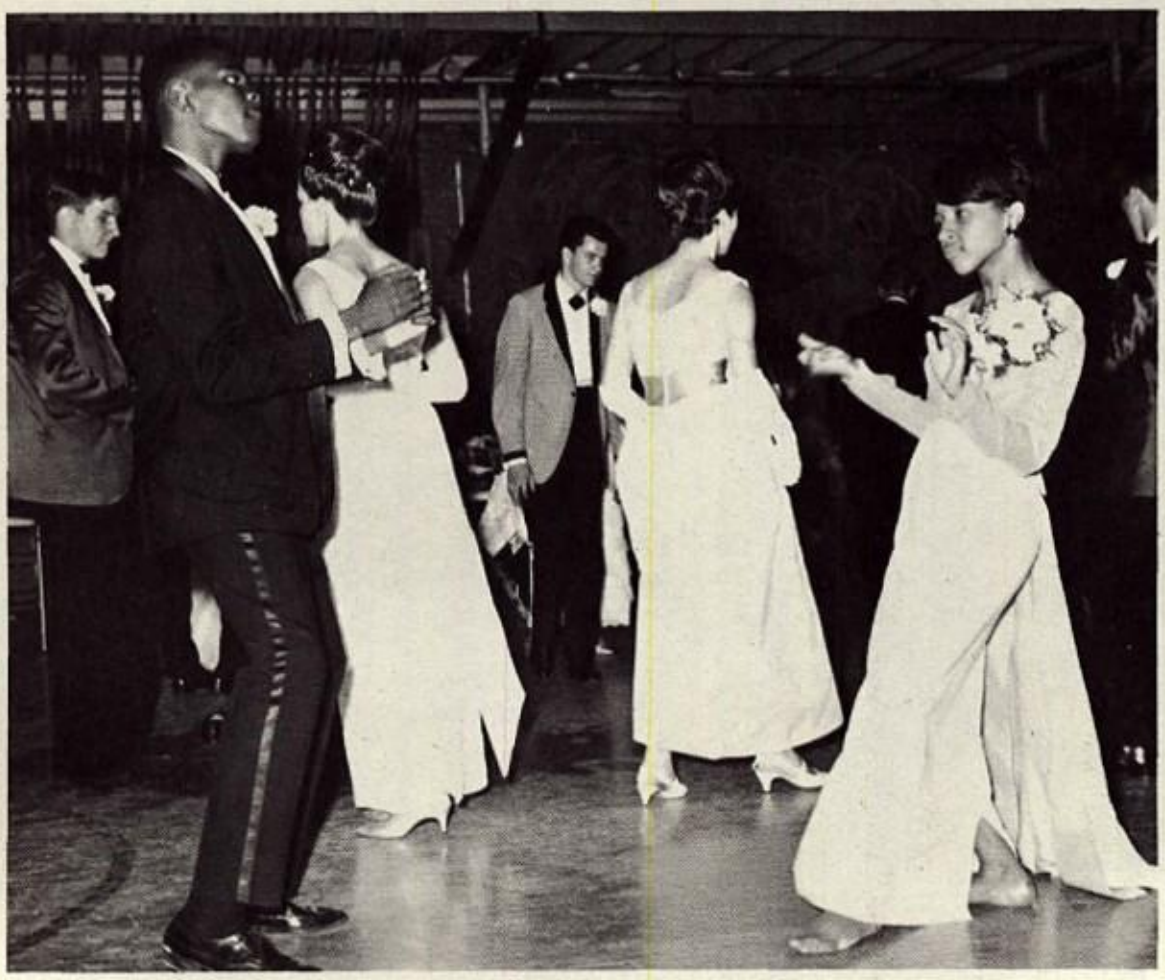


McDonald High School gymnasium was the scene of the 1966 Junior Senior Prom entitled "Hawaii By Night." The gymnasium was transformed into an exotic paradise by the junior class which spent many hours planning and decorating for this memorable event.

READY TO take part in junior-senior prom festivities are Ray Flere, Ruth Plecha, Dave Barrett, Cindy Kish, Linda Burnside, and Andy Golubic.

JOE FRANCO, Della Lawson, Babs Wheaton, and Chuck Dolsak take time out for refreshments.

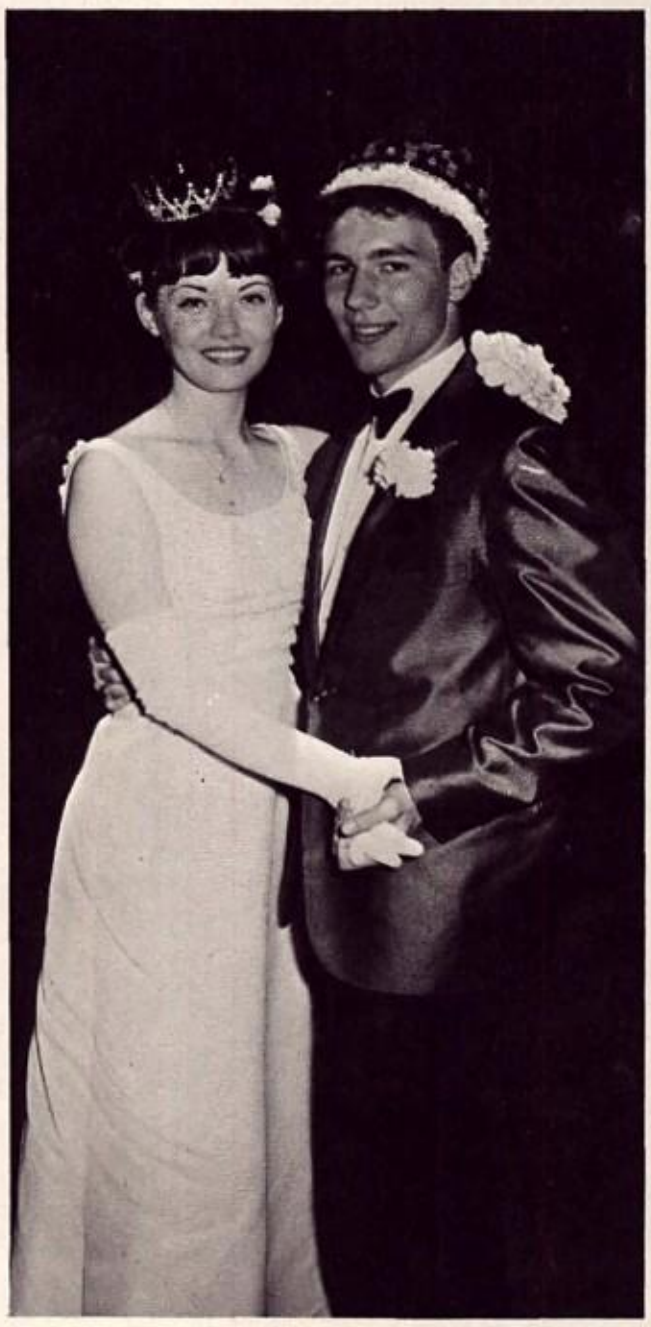
JUNIOR and senior class presidents, Mary Bright and Al Wellington, dance to the music of the R. T. Quintet.



A toast to end an evening to remember.

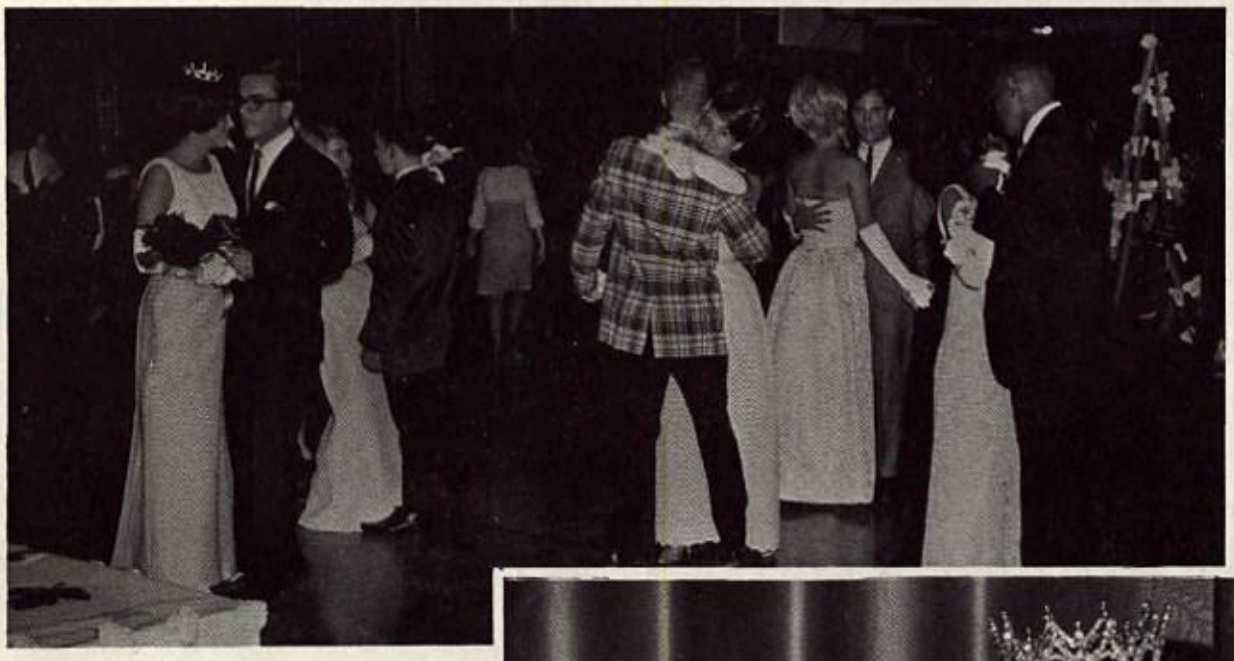
Members of the junior class selected Virginia Vadino and Andrew Golubic to reign over this tropical setting as Prom King and Queen. The coronation was the highlight of the evening.

KING ANDREW AND QUEEN VIRGINIA lead the first dance after the grand march in their honor.



WES MARTIN, Shirley Hapcic, Patty Hughes and Jim Coles toast the evening with "cheers."

Student body elects "Babs" Wheaton



CLIMAXING the evening, a dance, featuring Robin and his Hoods, was held to honor the Queen "Babs" and her court. This dance, sponsored by the Junior Class, was opened to all McDonald High School students.

Due to rain, the annual Homecoming Crowning was once again held in the auditorium. "Babs" Wheaton, a senior at M.H.S., was chosen homecoming queen by the popular vote of the student body.

Ed Hale, president of Student Council, presented her with a bouquet of roses and Susan Morello, G.A.A. representative, gave her a braclet on behalf of the organization.

ANXIETY IS at its peak as the minutes before the crowning slowly tick away. Awaiting the official crowning of the 1966 Homecoming Queen, contestants take time for a "chip" break. Kathy Milak, Mary Bright, Della Lawson, Linda Burnside, and Babs Wheaton seem quite unaffected by all the excitement.

WITH MUSIC provided by Robin and his Hoods, M.H.S. students enjoy the latest dances. This annual event is sponsored by the junior class.

Coseho Y-teens participate in

The Y-Teens is an organization of young women formed for the purpose of realizing Christian ideas of personal and social living.

The purposes of the young women of the Y-Teens are to grow as a person; to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, nationalities; and to grow in knowledge and love of God.

SELLING CONCESSIONS is the main project for the Y-Teens at basketball and football games. Darlene Hopfer, Frances Uber, Ethel Johnson, Beverly Kovach, and Barbara Lake have this project well in hand by preparing the concessions before the game.

Meetings for the junior and senior Y-Teens consist of guest speakers, movies, or field trips on such subjects as marriage, future careers and human relationships.

Activities include selling concessions at home basketball and football games; planning dances, such as the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, the annual Spring Formal and the Touchdown Toddle; and organizing banquets, such as the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The advisor, Miss Susan Berndt, takes an active part in all of the activities.

Student Council = backbone of student body.

Each year high school students elect officials to participate in a Civic Day program held by Student Council. This year, the elected students attended Civic Day in Youngstown, Ohio. Each student was assigned to a man or woman who is engaged in the field in which the student was elected. The student accompanied his sponsor in his particular position and was permitted to occupy this position from 9 a.m. through 12 p.m. The elected students were then treated to a luncheon at the Y.M.C.A.

Student Council is one of the most prominent organizations in the school. The members sponsor afternoon intramurals, decorate the school Christmas tree, plan the annual school Scholarship Banquet, and take part in the P.T.A. fair. Student Council's main function is to enforce fair school rules. Mr. Robert Long is the advisor; membership consists of homeroom presidents and representatives, and delegates from each organization in the school. The members of the cabinet are Ed Hale, president; Ruth Plecha secretary-treasurer; and Dave Rowthorn, vice-president.

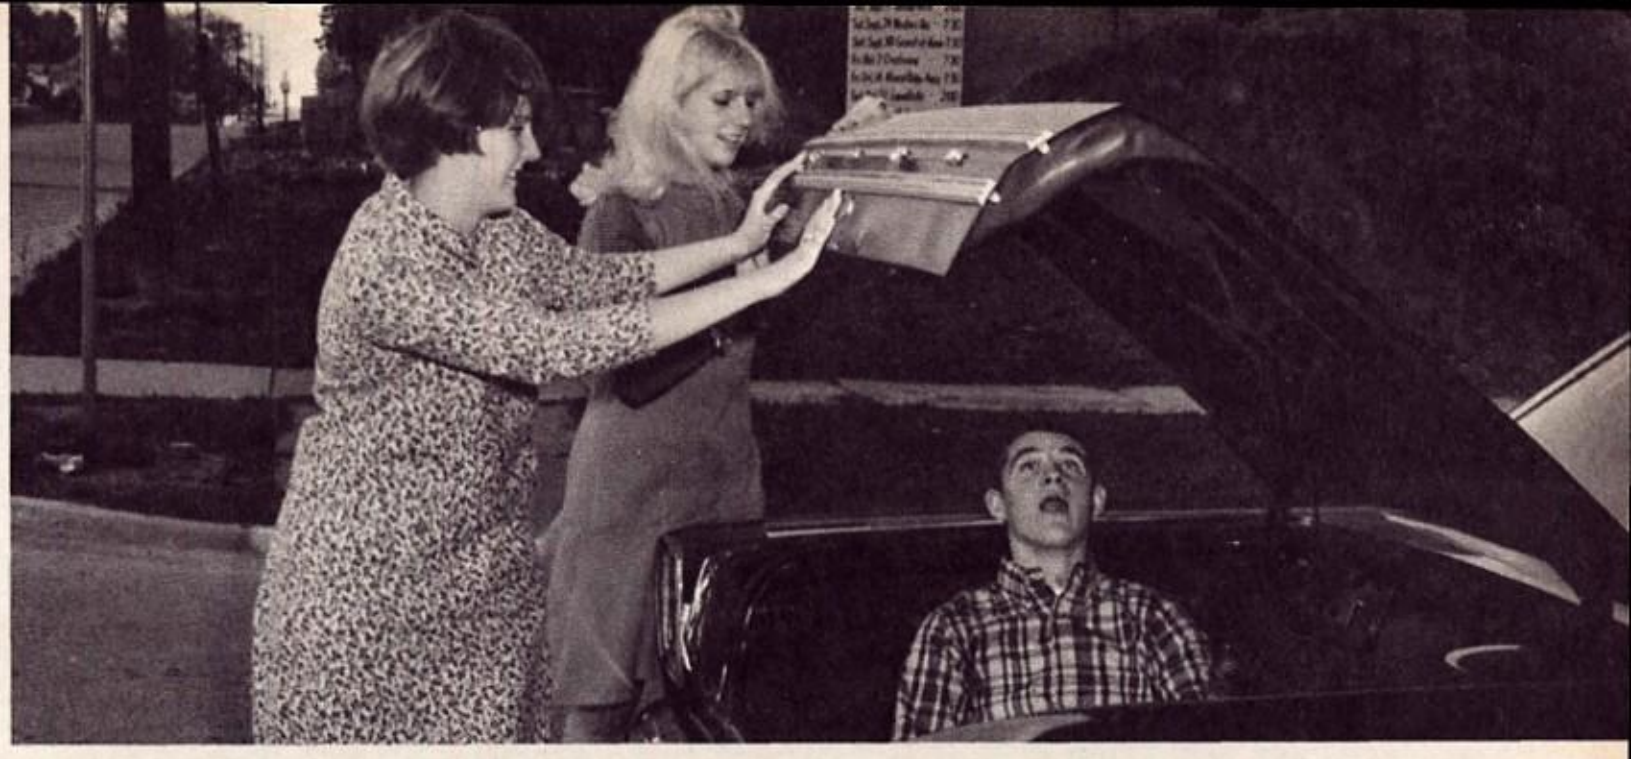
Roller staff presents golden anniversary edition.

MEETINGS BEGAN IN September as plans for the Fiftieth Anniversary edition of the Roller began to materialize. Drawing up layouts, writing copy, creating headlines, and accurately proofreading became daily activities for the nine staff members (Joyce Koniowsky, Frances Bozin, Sandy Aho, Bill Johnson, John Johnson, David Rowthorn, Jennifer Ziak, Della Lawson, Mary Bright) and the two advisors (Mrs. Mary Ann Baldwin, Miss Joan Bako) who gave up their lunch periods every day to complete their assignments.

FROM THE BEGINNING--afternoon meetings in September--to the end--sending completed pages in the mail--advisors Mrs. Mary Ann Baldwin and Miss Joan Bako work diligently and tirelessly on their part of the 1967 Roller. Along with the photographer, Mr. Jack Acri, they help staff members plan their pictures. Advisor Mrs. Mary Ann Baldwin was given commendation by the Taylor Publishing Company in recognition of loyalty, dedication and outstanding contribution to school yearbooks. This award was one of five awards presented in the country from this Company.

MEMBERS OF LAST year's Roller staff, Sandy Aho, Jennifer Ziak, and Dave Rowthorn were pleased with the fact that the 1966 Roller won a second place rating from the National Scholastic Press Association Yearbook contest. Always striving towards the "All-American Rating," they demonstrate what they do to their fellow members who, they feel, impede their progress to that goal.



NEWLY APPOINTED MEMBERS Bill Johnson, Joyce Koniowsky and Frances Bozin, search through yearbooks and records in compiling data on the history of McDonald Schools for the Fiftieth Anniversary edition of the Roller. Facts must be checked and rechecked, appropriate pictures found and copies remade so that an accurate and interesting account of our schools and the community will be portrayed.

SENIOR MEMBERS of the Roller staff, Mary Bright, Della Lawson, and John Johnson, put their ingenuity to work as they draw layouts and write copy. After attending many meetings, these members add their "last minute touches" to their given assignments.

McDonald's track team easily won both the I.C.L. and T.I.A. meets for the second year in a row. Eight of our Blue Devils qualified for the regional meet at Berea and two went on to state. Pete Terzak and Frank Dolsak both qualified and Dolsak took second place in the discus with a throw of 155 feet, 2 inches at the State Meet. McDonald lost only one dual meet during the season and boasted an 8-1 record.

The Devils also had many outstanding individual performers. Mike Ilas set a new shot put record with a heave of 52 feet, 4 1/2 inches. The broad jump record was tied by Larry Bellitt at a distance of 21 feet, 1 inch. Since the two-mile run was started in 1966, Tom Shilling set the record in 10 minutes, 52.2 seconds. But the Varsity didn't get all the glory. Mr. Barry Clute's Junior High School team also won the I.C.L. to complete a highly successful season.

The high spirited Devils stopped two Randolph drives at their own one-yard line and a third drive when Bill Walker intercepted a pass in our end zone. Late in the fourth quarter, Lowers hit on several long passes, the last of which was a 12 yarder to Jim Coles for the score, with the clock showing only four seconds. Scirocco added the two extra points. The Devils beat a bigger and tougher foe 8-0.

McDONALD 46 JACKSON-MILTON 0

By holding the Blue Jays to just 58 yards rushing, the Devils had an easy victory. Bob Scirocco, Rick McFalls and Alex Polinsky each scored twice to lead the offense.

McDONALD 40 WESTERN RESERVE 6

In McDonald's first I.C.L. game, the Devils soundly trounced Western Reserve while chalking up 336 yards rushing and allowing their opponents only 77. Polinsky scored two TD's and Jim Lowers, Rick McFalls and Bob Scirocco scored one each. Although Western Reserve has never beaten a McDonald team, they succeeded in scoring the first touchdown against the Devils.

McDONALD 54 GREENFORD 18

Since Greenford was offering little resistance, Coach Pierson substituted freely to give the "blood unit" a chance to see a little action. In spite of a muddy field, the Devils had no trouble in awarding the Queen with a homecoming victory.

McDONALD 32 CRESTVIEW 0

The Devils put on a tremendous defensive showing and held the Rebels to 36 yards rushing in recording their fifth straight victory. Due to vicious blocking and hard running, the devils moved the ball freely. Devils who scored the touchdowns from a well-balanced attack were Scirocco, Lowers, Rowthorn, and McFalls.

McDONALD 6 MINERAL RIDGE 8

Despite valiant efforts, the Devils couldn't pull out a victory and thus lost the I.C.L. championship. After a scoreless first half, Ridge scored on a blocked punt. Scirocco scored with only 5:55 left in the game but the try for the extra points failed.

MCDONALD 34 LOWELLVILLE 0

Although the Rockets were looking for the possibility of an upset, the Devils defense soundly drubbed them. Lowellville tried to surprise McDonald with a rare offensive formation called the Lone Polecat; but due to sound coaching, the Devils adjusted quickly and held them to an amazing 21 yards rushing. Scoring for the Devils was done by Polinsky, Rowthorn, McFalls, Walker, and Lowers.

MCDONALD 30 NORTH LIMA 6

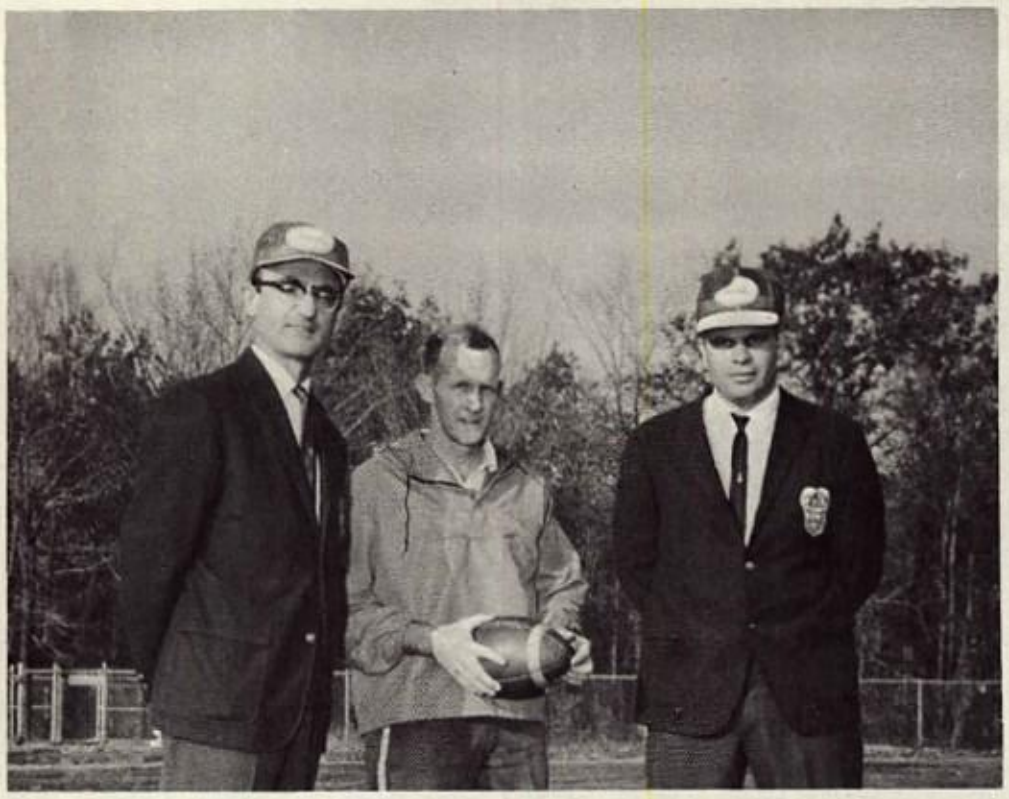
The Devils sought revenge for the '65 team and had no trouble in getting it. The miserly defense allowed the Zippers only 10 yards rushing and continually pounded Lima's backfield. The offense was not idle though and gained 286 yards. Lowers, Polinsky, Rowthorn, and McFalls scored a touchdown each, leading the offense to victory.

MCDONALD 30 LIBERTY 0

Getting off to a slow start, the Devils found themselves on their own 7-yard line with a first and goal situation for Liberty. The "headhunter" defense dug in and held. From then on, the Devils took over and in spite of freezing weather moved the ball at will. Barb tallied twice and Polinsky and Lowers once in leading McDonald to the victory which brought them the best win-and loss record since 1946. The Devils won 8 and lost only 1, climaxing an extremely successful season.

MCDONALD "HEADHUNTER" defense shows its power as Ed Hale and Bill Walker make a bruising tackle on the Mineral Ridge fullback.

McDonald boasts best footbal



MHS COACHES WHO led the Devils to their best season since 1946 are Joe Derenzo, head coach Jack Pierson, and Bob Price.

WAYNE BARB shows his powerful offensive drive as he slashes through the Liberty defense for a sizable gain.

In his second year as head coach, Jack Pierson led his chargers to a banner season. Among all schools in the county, regardless of classification, McDonald scored more points than any other team, and with the exception of Niles, had the least number of points scored on them. Although the Devils were forced to settle for second place in the I.C.L., we placed 9 players on the All-Star Team. In addition, Ed Hale, a three-year letterman and a starter at center for the past two years, won a first team position on the Northeastern Ohio All-Star Team. Both Ed Hale and Jim Lowers were awarded an honorable mention in the All-Ohio State ratings. Success can be mainly attributed to the famed "headhunter defense." It was responsible for maintaining good field position and holding down the opponents' scoring success. The "headhunters" allowed only 40 points throughout the entire season to be scored against them.

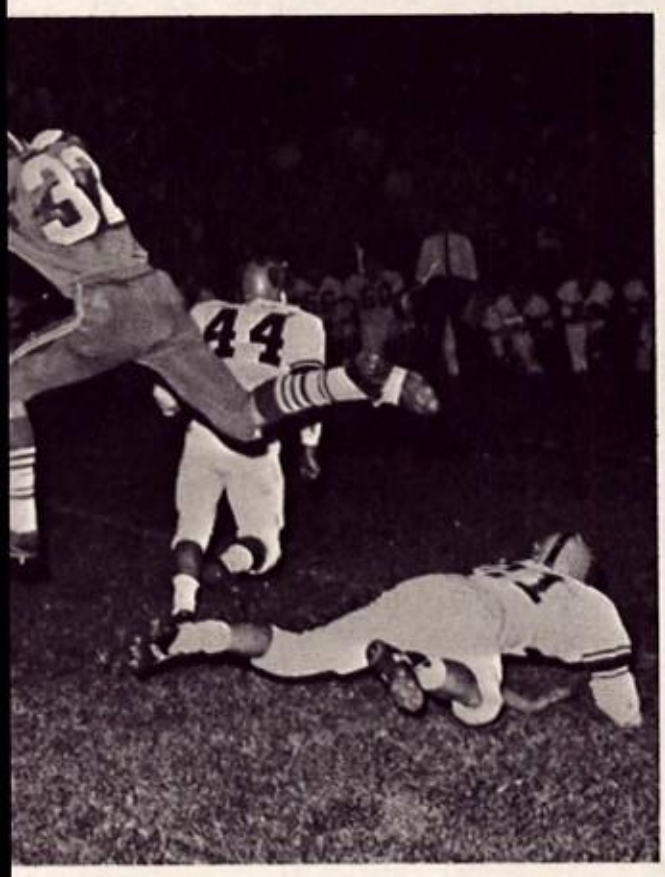
SPEED AND AGILITY enable Rick McFalls to slip through a small opening in the Greenford line.

MCDONALD PLACED NINE players on the I. C. L. All-Star Team. They are Jerry Koniowsky, Second Team; Jim Lowers, First Team; Bill Walker, Second Team; Rick McFalls, Second Team; Bob Urban, First Team; Dan O'Donnell, First Team; Bob Scirocco, Second Team; Dave Rowthorn, First Team; Ed Hale, First Team.



LEAPING HIGH OVER a Mineral Ridge defender, Dave Rowthorn makes a spectacular block of an attempted punt. This play gave the Blue Devils excellent field position, although they were unable to capitalize on it, losing their rival game by the slim margin of 8-6.

For the second year, the McDonald coaches chose a "Blue Devil" and a "Headhunter" for each game. A "Headhunter" is a player who hustles and plays aggressively on defense and is always involved in the action. A "Blue Devil" is a player who does an outstanding job in any number of ways. He can receive this award for tremendous blocking or hard running. Anyone who comes through on a number of clutch plays can be termed a "Blue Devil." It is an honor to receive one of these awards, and it serves to inspire the players. The players who received this award for the 1966 season are as follows:

GAME	HEADHUNTER	BLUE DEVIL
Randolph	Badnek	Lowers
Jackson-Milton	O'Donnell	Scirocco
Western Reserve	Koniowsky	Polinsky
Greenford	Hale	McFalls
Crestview	Hale	Rowthorn
Mineral Ridge	Barb	Rowthorn
Lowellville	Rowthorn	Walker
North Lima	Stonestreet	Lowers
Liberty	Scirocco	Barb

THE MANAGERS who assisted the Devils are Bill Miller, Dennis Mounts, and Mike Walker.

McDonald 90 Crestview 41

The spirited Devils took to the floor in defense of their I. C. L. crown and completely outplayed the younger Rebels. This victory extended McDonald's I. C. L. winning streak to 19 games.

McDonald 64 North Lima 65

McDonald tangled with North Lima for four hard fought quarters. The mighty McDonald five led through three quarters, until North Lima tied the score in the fourth quarter. McDonald traded basket for basket with the Zippers in the last quarter, but at the final buzzer the Devils came up on the short end by one point.

McDonald 74 Lowellville 38

Playing extremely fine ball defensively as well as offensively, the stingy Devils limited the Rockets to 12 points in the first half and poured in 40 points of their own. The Devils ripped the cords at will and soundly whipped Lowellville 74-38.

McDonald 50 Western Reserve 57

Western Reserve's Blue Devils pulled a surprise press and caught McDonald's Devils unaware. Before McDonald could recover, Western Reserve had handed them their first I. C. L. defeat in three years and killed their bid for their fourth consecutive Crown.

McDonald 76 Greenford 49

A powerful offense and an unyielding defense combined to allow the McDonald five to roll easily by the Greenford Bobcats.

McDonald 68 Mineral Ridge 49

Mineral Ridge's Rams were looking for an upset when they pulled their slow-down tactics. Their efforts were in vain and the Devils broke the game wide open late in the first quarter. As a result, the Devils recorded a 4-2 I. C. L. record and tied with Western Reserve for second place.

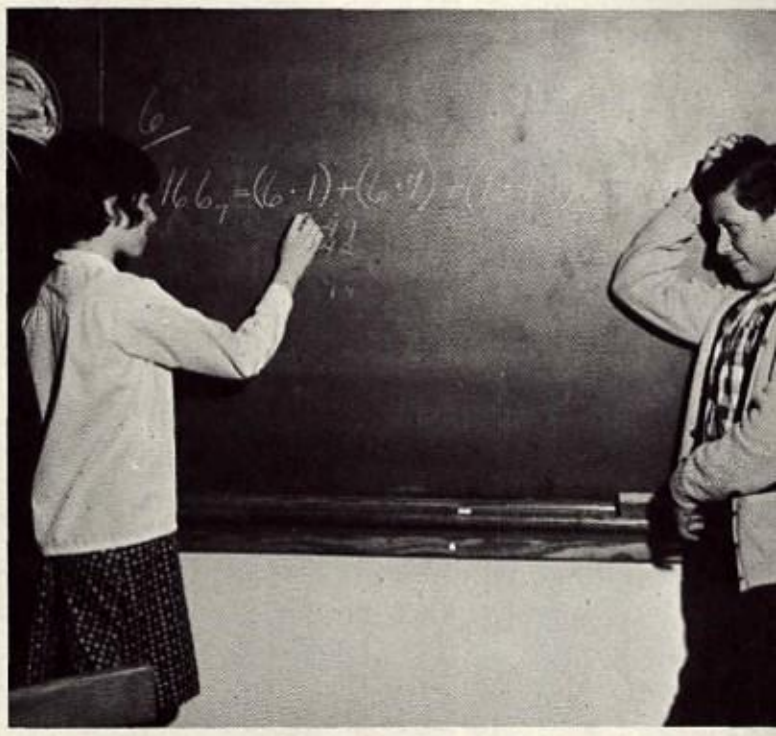
GIRLS LEARN the fundamentals of good housekeeping in becoming home economists. Threading needles, cutting patterns, learning the proper use of sewing machines, and learning basic stitches are combined to produce the finished product. This year the seventh graders are making skirts. The first six weeks was devoted to good grooming. They were taught how to manicure their nails properly. Other general health hints were also taught in Miss Susan Berndt's class.

Modern courses challenge seventh graders.

WITH THE use of experiments, seventh graders see the "unbelievable" in the world of science. They also do research projects--giving class reports on their findings. Class discussion provides a challenging atmosphere for the students in Mr. Joseph Jackamo's class. Jerry Morgan, Michael Antolini, and Gary Lewis perform an experiment demonstrating a vacuum.



SEVENTH GRADERS of Mr. Robert Price's class are somewhat perplexed by the "new math." Jean Aho attempts to help Paul Sharp with a base seven problem. As part of the course, students keep notebooks containing the basic principles of math as well as algebra.

Eighth grade students grow academically.

It's a busy and hectic year for eighth graders. Their subjects are multiplied, their activities are doubled, and most important of all, their maturity is developed. As they pass through their final stages of junior high, they are given more class projects, such as swim parties, to help them get a taste of high school life. The eighth grade students appointed Jeff Natoli as president, Carl Freeman as vice president, and Pat Molin as secretary-treasurer, to supervise these projects and lead the class forward to academic success.

EACH TIME Mr. William Carson's Ohio history class opens their books, the students go back into time when our state was first being formed. They learn about the state's very first settlers, their struggles and hardships, and our state's final rise into statehood. Ohio history is given only to eighth grade students, which helps them to learn about our great state and to make them proud Ohioans.

STUDENTS EXPLORE the wonderful world of words in eighth grade English. They learn about nouns and verbs, adjectives and adverbs, and how to use them correctly in a sentence. Mr. Ronald Drabiski teaches them proper English usage and helps them to improve their vocabulary. Next year their knowledge will be put to test when they advance to writing themes and essays in their freshman year.

CONCENTRATION is essential in ninth grade geometry. The freshman class is the first class in the history of McDonald High School to take ninth grade geometry, an advanced course taught by Robert Long. The geometry course consists of learning mathematical inductive and deductive reasoning; learning angle relationships and perpendicular lines; and learning the fundamentals of trigonometry. To create interest, Mr. Robert Long assembled a computer which he uses to show the class how to program.

MR. KENNETH BAKER teaches mechanical drawing to freshman boys who are interested in becoming draftsmen. From this course, Clarence Sigley, Terry Wilson, and James Cherry learn the essentials for reading and constructing complicated blue prints.

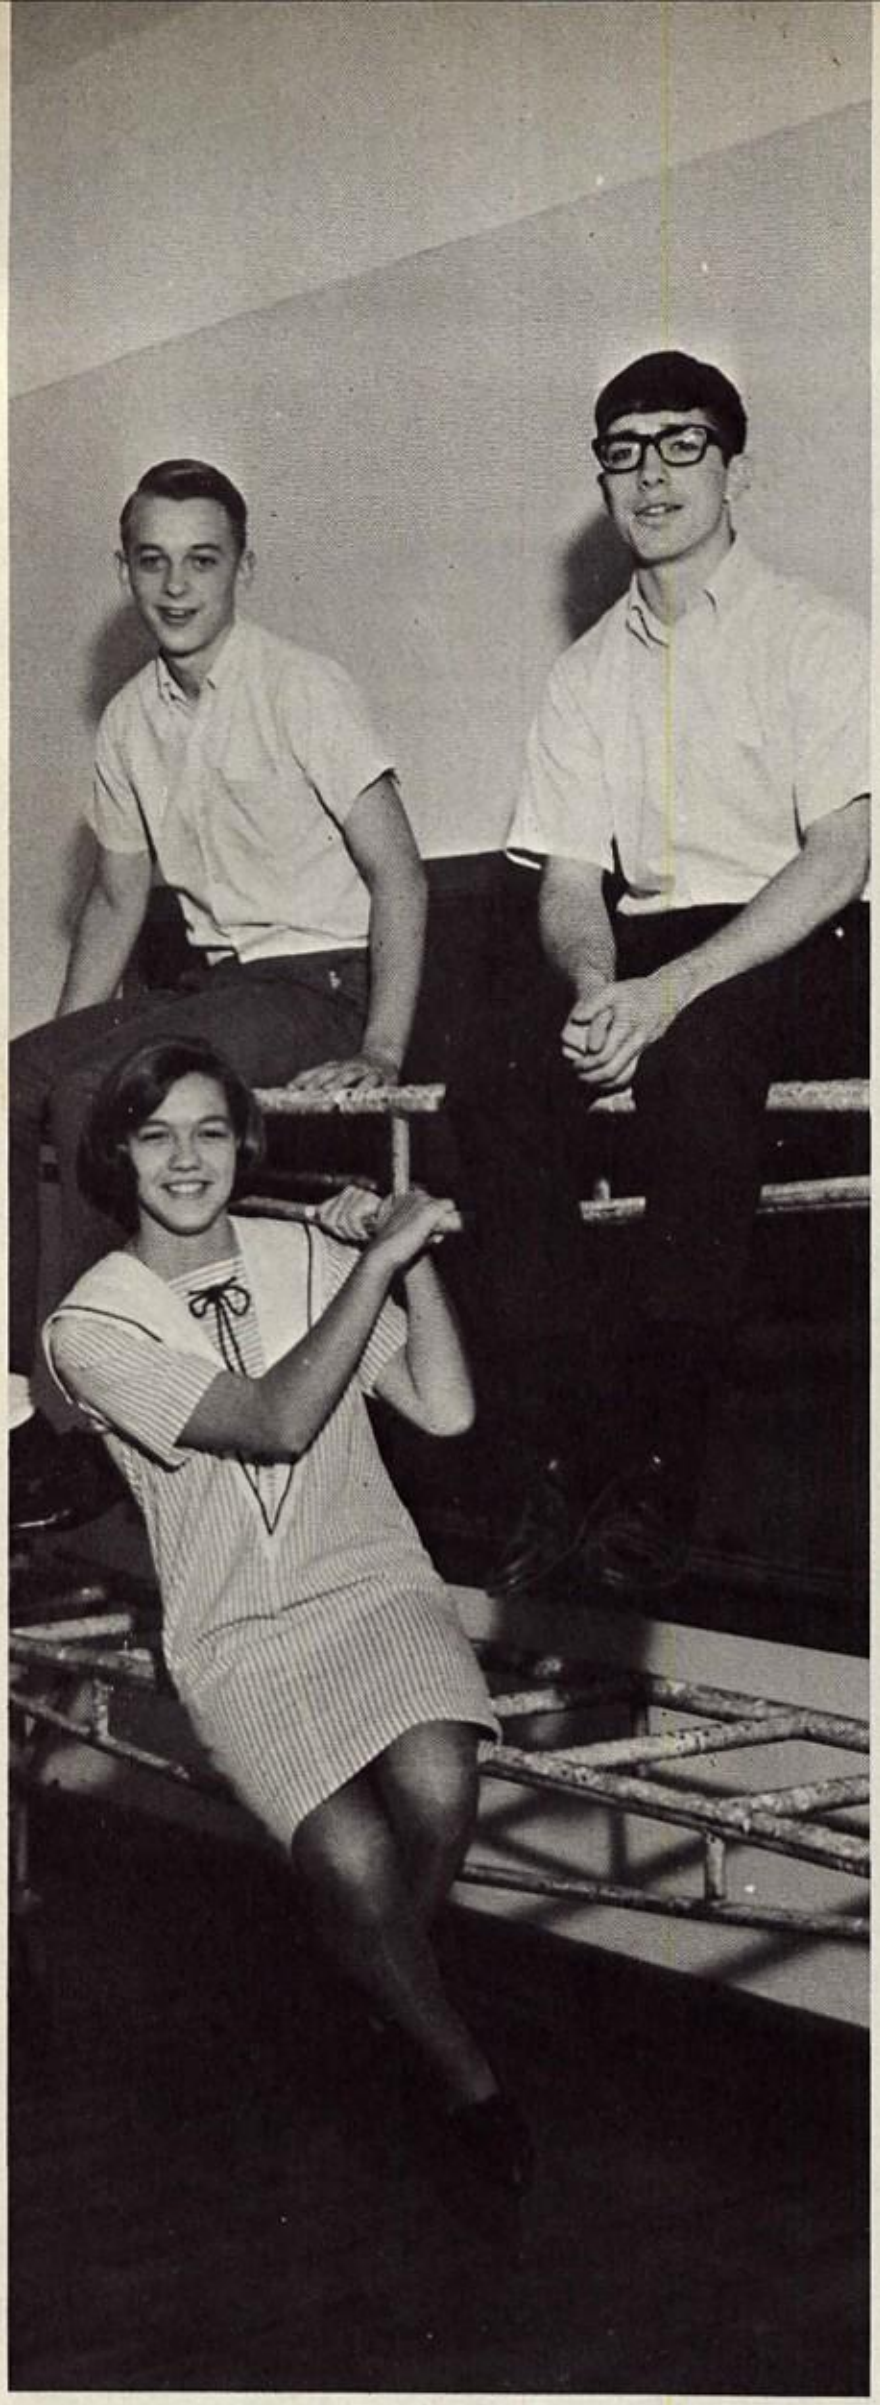
SOPHOMORES CHOSEN to represent the class of 1969 are Bill Johnson, president; Gary Fansler, vice-president; and Tom McClary, secretary-treasurer. Plans have been made for a busy year. These include post-game dances and a booth at the P.T.A. Fair. The boys are able to participate in varsity sports and girls can take part in such activities as G.A.A., Pep Club, and Chorus.



ONE OF THE busiest years for students is the junior year. They are usually found starry-eyed with their new class rings, or in a state of confusion planning homecoming, prom, car washes, class dances and most of the major activities of the school year. Ken Fisher was elected president, Phil Beckley - vice-president and Cheryl Schmidt - secretary-treasurer to supervise these projects with the assistance of the junior class advisors, Mr. Joseph Jackamo, Mrs. Amelia Yunque, and Mr. James Miller.

We're proud of you!

You've made a wonderful mark on our world with your youth, your vitality, your hard work, too. And thank you--for making us see new ways of looking at life, a laugh or two at ourselves, and well--just for being you--young, happy, and ready.

There's a whole world waiting to hear from you again--so make the very best of all that you are, and all that you want to be. Believe in that dream, and work for it--you are the only one who can make it real, you know--because you have that very special something--your individuality. Please, never lose that!

It's hats off to you, Graduate! You've done much to be proud of, and there's much more that can be done--we believe you can do it. We believe in you.

"There is many a battle that's yet to be won.
There is many a glorious deed to be done.
The world is still young! For the youth at

The staff of the 1967 Roller would like to close the cover of our yearbook with one last "thank you" extended to everyone who made it possible to print this 50th Anniversary edition. Thank you - Mr. Acri, our photographer; Rudy Stein, our artist; the administration and faculty.

Portions of the Rollers extending as far back as 1921 have been retrieved and reprinted in this year's book. Information had been gathered for months before assembling it into one entire summary. Along with these pages, months of hard work, hundreds of hours, and hurried and hectic lunch periods have been sewn into the cover. Because of the limited space, we have attempted to portray only some of the most important milestones of the village and school history.

At last it is completed!

Terry,

Where to begin to tell you, the wonderful times we've had is a tuff question. Because we've had so many of them I don't think I could ever thank you enough. I hope you've had as many of them as what I've had. Although we've had our ~~spats~~ we've always come out on top. Oh!! and your poor class ring, it was thrown from one finger (mine) to the other (yours). I thought I'd be nice and let you wear it for a while (I haven't thought for how long) because I didn't want it to get it tarnished. My writing not to good, but I never could write on paper without lines, so I apologize. This has been a real nice year especially for me. I don't think it would have been fulfilled if you hadn't popped into the picture. Do you remember when we first started to get to know one another? When we signed pictures for each other? (It took us a long time to ask each other for them) yes, I can really look back at all our times. Oh!! we must not forget Prom and the picnic. I wonder how are pictures will turn out, being you opened them in the ~~sun~~ sun. Well, I could probably go on and on about our good times, but the papers running out. I'm glad we got you straightened out about the Marines. Your not going - Right??? I knew you'd agree. I'm looking foward to a wonderful summer with you.

P.S. God Bless and keep you — Right??

Love,
Jackie
